Labor Relations Board To Review Teacher Action

School Board Candidate

Casimir J. Kolaski announces his candidacy today for election to the Andover School Committee. Mr. Kolaski and his wife Linda reside at 15 Carisbrooke Street. They have two elementary age children who attend Andover Public Schools.

The candidate was educated at Ridgefield High School, Ridgefield, Conn., Bates College and Boston University, from which he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and American Literature. His graduate studies program included work at Brandeis University, and a Teaching Fellowship at the University of Massachusetts while studying Health Education and Administration. While a student at Bates College, Mr. Kolaski was a member of the National Championship Bates College G.E. College Bowl Team. He served two years as a Peace Corps volunteer in Costa Rica where he taught English, and was involved in various health and education programs. Mr. Kolaski has previously worked as a consultant in plan-

Andover schools were expected to remain open today, strike or no.

The teacher's contract dispute over salaries had reached crisis proportions yesterday, and the Andover Education Association was scheduled to lists of substitutes and teacher aides who were qualified to teach.

If there were a strike, he said, the matter would be in the hands of the labor board and the courts.

take a strike vote at Merrimack College at 3:30, as the TOWNSMAN was going to press.

School Committee Chairman Frank Griggs said yesterday, however, that policy is to keep the schools open, and that they would try to make do with large Griggs also said he felt there wouldn't be 100 percent compliance with a strike anyway. The majority of the teachers, he said, would probably choose not to follow the union leadership and break the law.

Town, DPW Come To Terms

The lengthy negotiations over a new contract between the town and the Department of Public Works was completed this week with an agreement on a 6.5 percent wage increase, effective July 1, 1975 and a 7 percent increase effective July 1, 1976.

Bargaining on the new two year contract, which will run through June 30, 1977, has been going on for several months, with the employees working with no contract since last fall.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, DPW Director Robert E. McQuade and Town Counsel Alfred Daniels negotiated the new contract with the State, County and Municipal Employees union representing the DPW employees, with agreement being reached on Tuesday.

The average hourly wage for DPW employees of $4.50 will be increased by 29 cents per hour retroactive to July 1, 1975, under the new contract, and is an across-the-board increase.

Cost to the town for this portion of the new pact is estimated at $32,423.

To Address Chamber Meeting

Professor James J. St.Germain of Merrimack College has accepted the invitation of the Andover Chamber of Commerce's Center Merchants to speak at the "Retailer of the Year" award dinner scheduled for Thursday, March 11, at the Lanam Club, according to chairman Paul J. Gmyrek.

"We are very excited about Professor St.Germain's acceptance, which will complement the prestigious occasion of presenting an award to one of Andover's dedicated leaders in the business community," commented Mr. Gmyrek.

A social hour will begin at 6 and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. The business portion of the evening will start at 8 p.m. Reservations are now being accepted and should be made directly through the Chamber of Commerce office.

Austin Anderson and Kenneth Thompson, both past recipients of this award, along with President of the Andover Chamber of Commerce, Attorney Andrew F. Shea, will be judges in the final decision of the 1976 awards presentation.

The committee working with Paul Gmyrek consists of Jeffrey S. French, H. Charles Heseltine, Douglas Thompson, Alex Milne and Charles A. McKew.

Office Building Tops Month's List

New construction in Andover got off to a good start in January with $149,000 in new dwellings authorized and a permit for construction of an office building on Frontage Road for an estimated $335,000.

The office building permit was issued to Ben H. Watters and David McDonald for the area near the K. of C. building off Osgood Street.

The area was rezoned at the last annual town meeting.

Total of all permits issued for the month was $555,985 with $1,636 in fees being turned over to the treasurer by Building Inspector Arthur Peatman.

New dwellings: Raymond Fortuna, Pomeroy Road, $26,000; Olympic Construction, 9 Homestead Circle, $35,000, Farmland Circle, $40,000 and $48,000.

Additions and Alterations: Allen W. Tarro, 29 Farrwood Drive, enclosure porch, $1,135; Charles J. Brau, 8 Twin Brooks Circle, finish cellar, $1,150; Reginald Marden, 96 Maple Ave., reroof porch, $600; Albert Evan, Jr., 177 Shawsheen Road, kitchen alterations, $3,000; David R. Coffman, 3 Central Lane, family room, $9,500; Mr.

McHale, 30 Wildrose Drive, porch addition, $7,800; George D. Donovan, 243 Lowell St., reroofing and siding, $1,500; Donald Richmond, 54-58 Main St., alterations to building for retail sales, $40,000; protective barricade, $250; Shawsheen Manor, Inc., 349 North Main St., owner - manager residence, heating system conversion, $6,000; Dudley Trading Trust, Shawsheen Plaza, office rear of existing store, $300.

Other permits: Carlos M. Barcelos, 86 Main St., sign, $250; Old Colony Investment Trust, Lowell St., construction trailer, $500.

Exhibit On Women At Library

"Women", an exhibit on the history of women in Massachusetts, authorized by Boston 200 and jointly in Andover by the Bicentennial Committee, the Greater Lawrence Chapter of the National Organization for Women and Memorial Hall Library is now on display in Memorial Hall Library and is free to the public.

A 30 minute narrated slide show and thirty six graphic panels accompanying it explore the evolving roles of women from the days of the Massachusetts Indian to the present. Colonial women activists, early female authors, the first woman M.D. in the country, and teachers are among those who paved the way for later women interested in reform of laws regulating women's status. Abigail Adams, wife of our second President, John Adams, suggested "more generous and favorable" treatment of women before our Constitution was written.

Many history classes in the area are scheduled to view this exhibit. Arrangements for other groups and classes can be made by contacting Gwen Smith at the Library.

The exhibit will be on view during regular Library hours until March 12.

Tickets Available For Candidate Forum

Free tickets to the '76 Presidential Forum, set for Feb. 23 at John Hancock Hall, Boston, are available through Mrs. Sue Tucker, president of the Andover League of Women Voters, at 6 Farrwood Drive.

Candidates invited to participate at the Forum, which is presented by the League's Education Fund, include Birch Bayh, Lloyd Bentsen, Jimmy Carter, Gerald Ford, Fred Harris, Henry Jackson, Ronald Reagan, Milton Shapp, Sargent Shriver, Morris Udall and George Wallace.

The issues to be discussed include "high employment, low inflation and cheap energy: can we have them all?"

The Forum will begin at 8:30 p.m. and proceed issue by issue, not candidate by candidate. Moderator will be Elie Abel, dean of the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism.

The Host Committee for the affair includes Henry Cabot Lodge; Governor Michael Dukakis; Senators Edward Brooke and Edward Kennedy; Mayor Kevin White; Jerome Grossman of the Democratic National Committee; Mrs. H. Dunstede Howe of the Republican National Committee; Erskine W. Barrett of the UAW; Norman Fine, chairman of Massachusetts Common Cause; Michael Grieco of the AFL-CIO; Miss Elma Lewis of the National Center of Afro-American Artists and the School of Fine Arts; Thomas Sampson, president of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce; and Charles Wadsworth, president of the Massachusetts Bar Association.

Traditional Surveys Are Due Tomorrow

While questionnaires won't get "zapped" if they're a little late, tomorrow is the deadline for parents to enroll their youngsters in a traditional program for next fall.

Questionnaires were sent home to parents some two weeks ago, giving them an opportunity to sign their youngsters up for the new alternative, and a meeting explaining the traditional program and what the schools offer now, was held last week.

However, at Tuesday night's meeting, School Committee member George Olesen wanted to make a few matters clear:

- Parents of preschoolers who received their letters late may still enroll their youngsters, even if their questionnaires are not back by tomorrow.

- Parents who do not submit their questionnaires will not be considered for the traditional program.

- Any teacher who goes into a traditional classroom will be there by choice.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert agreed with an Olesen suggestion that the administration should acknowledge receipt of the survey from interested parents.

Mrs. Ethel Howard said that some parents seemed to think that this was just another questionnaire and that their final decision on enrolling their youngsters would not be made until April.

"It is my understanding," Olesen said, "that we're in need of hard figures," and that those who so returned the questionnaires were "definitely committing themselves to the program."

Associate Superintendent Harry Westcott, however, said that questionnaires that weren't in administration offices by tomorrow would not be "zapped". He said he expected that some would still be coming in next week, and that they would be counted along with the others.

Olesen added that as a result of his working with the administration on planning for the new program, he felt "more and more confident that the program that will be offered in Andover is one we can be proud of... and one parents can have confidence in."

He said it was his understanding that the main difference between the current system and the traditional is that the latter has certain achievement levels a pupil must attain before he can be promoted to the next grade.

Administrators Voting On Teamsters

The Administrators in the Andover Public Schools will vote Thursday, Feb. 12, at the Sanborn School from 3-5 p.m. to select their bargaining agent. The election, which will be conducted by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Labor Relations Commission, is necessary due to a challenge instituted by the Andover School Committee. The two choices the administrators have are:

1. Local 380, Affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen, and Helpers
2. No labor organization

The members eligible to vote are all the members of Unit B.

Same Achievement Tests To Be Given

The Andover School Committee Tuesday night voted to continue with the achievement tests for grades 1 through 9 that were given last year.

Associate Superintendent Harry Westcott recommended that the program be conducted during the weeks of May 3 and 10. In using the same test series again this year, he said, "comparability will be assured", and comparisons of scores from year to year will be more realistic.

The actual tests include Cooperative Primary Tests, Grades 1 to 3; Sequential Tests of Educational Progress (STEP), Grades 4-9; and the School and College Ability Tests, II (SCAT - II), Grades 4-9.

In other action Tuesday night, the committee elected Robert Carroll of Winchester to teach High School English, while appointing Stephen Holbrook of Andover an instructional aide for Project Core at East Jr. High, and Mrs. Agnes Smith of Andover a teacher aide for the high school library.

Dennis Giata was made a permanent building custodian at East Junior High, and maternity leaves were granted to Mrs. Maureen Bennani, French teacher at the high school, and Mrs. Susan Ivester, fourth grade teacher at West Elementary.

Local Chapter Host To AFS Students

Andover Visitors

This past weekend the Andover High School student chapter of American Field Service hosted a get-together of area AFS foreign students.

The students arrived Friday afternoon for a reception at the high school library. Friday evening, about 50 students and parents gathered for a pot luck supper at West Parish Church. Saturday, the group enjoyed a day of swimming, skating and games and never-ending conversation at the home of the Ross R. Anderson's with a party that evening at Christ Church.

Sunday morning, the group of 25 gathered at the Ryden's home for a pancake breakfast where the students exchanged ideas, impressions and experiences of AFS.

The visiting AFS students stayed with Andover High School students' families. Besides Andover's two AFS students, Thorkil Tottrup of Denmark and Kjell Sobak of Norway, the group included Andre Larandier of Luxembourg who is staying in Concord as is Tiina Vainio of Finland. Elisabeth Oredalen from Norway who is spending the year in Lexington, Anchalee Paireepinath from Thailand staying in Lynnfield, North Andover's Julio Conceicao from Brazil, Susanne Herrman from Germany staying in Reading and from France, Genevieve Negre, who is visiting Wakefield.

This annual area get-together is but one of the activities in which AFS chapters are involved. Anyone interested in becoming active with AFS is welcomed to call the Andover chapter president, Mrs. Don Sagaser.

Udall Caucus

The "Udall for President" delegate selection caucus will be held on Sunday, Feb. 15 at 2 p.m. at the University of Lowell, Cumnock Hall, North Campus. The purpose of the caucus will be to elect delegates and alternates to the Democratic National Convention in New York on July 12.

The Udall coordinator for Andover is Thomas Battles, 43 Whittier Street.

Rita Galvin of Reading will present sculpt-metal in sculpture at the Andover Artists' Guild meeting, Sunday, Feb. 15, 2:30 p.m. at the Bay State National Bank, Andover.

Mrs. Galvin, well-known for her sculpture in various media, studied sculpture and design with Sr. Vincent DePaul of Emmanuel, also with several other teachers on sculpture in wood including the late Carl Hauck.

She has appeared on the educational TV program: Signed By The Artist.

As a member of the Reading Art Association, Mrs. Galvin has exhibited throughout New England, both in one-man shows and competitive exhibits receiving, therefrom, many awards.

Several private collections include her sculptures. Her architectural carvings, since wood is her great love, are in many churches in the area.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Walter Roberts, hostess; assisted by Mrs. Sonia Carlson and Mrs. Byron R. Cleveland, Sr.

NOW Group Is Active

The Greater Lawrence Chapter of the National Organization for Women, which began in April of 1975, is the only chapter of NOW in Massachusetts north of Boston. The 35 local members are affiliated with 60,000 women and men across the country who are dedicated to the principle that women represent an untapped national resource. Ranging in ages from the 20's to 50's, the group includes both married and single women, all of whom work in and/or outside the home.

Greater Lawrence NOW sponsors its monthly meetings on a variety of topics. These meetings are held in different communities reflecting the distribution of membership from Andover, North Andover, Methuen and Lawrence.

The Chapter has several task forces, consisting of smaller groups of people interested in specific subjects, including Chapter 622, a recently passed Massachusetts law designed to make each student's awareness of the wide range of possibilities in his or her life and the ratification of the State Equal Rights Amendment. Although Massachusetts has passed the Federal ERA, the state amendment will be on the Massachusetts ballot in November as a referendum.

Along with the Memorial Hall Library in Andover, NOW is sponsoring an exhibition about famous women through three centuries in Massachusetts. The exhibition which includes photographs and biographical sketches also presents a slide tape.

Ricci Among Top In Class

Three new Andover police patrolmen successfully completed the Municipal Police Training Class at the State Police Academy, Framingham, this past week, with Arthur Ricci finishing third in the class.

Patrolman Ricci was joined by Kevin J. Burke and Frank W. Froburg, Jr., at the academy for the course which lasted several weeks. Graduation exercises were last Friday in Framingham.

Ricci attained an over 95 average in the class. He has been a permanent member of the department since October, 1975.

Burke began his police career as a dispatcher at the Andover station and received permanent appointment on Nov. 16, 1975, just prior to being enrolled at the academy. He had been a dispatcher since September of 1974.

Froburg was also a dispatcher prior to his appointment in November. He had been serving as dispatcher since August.

The graduation of the three men means that nearly every member of the Andover department has completed advance training in police work, according to Town Manager J. Maynard Austin.

Voter Registration

Registration of new voters to be eligible to cast ballots in the town election is underway, with special sessions of the board of registrars beginning next week.

The board will be in session on Tuesday, Feb. 17, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Ballard Vale United Church, precinct five and Peabody House, Phillips Academy, precinct six.

Accept Flood Plain Recommendations

The selectmen Monday night accepted the recommendations of Town Manager J. Maynard Austin regarding the establishing of flood plain zoning according to federal government dictates.

Austin has recommended only the areas involving the Merrimack and Shawsheen Rivers be included in the maps drawn by consultants for the government.

The consultants had included all wetland areas in the town, including the town hall, within flood plain boundaries according to the map submitted for local consideration.

At a public hearing four weeks ago, Austin explained that he felt that only the main rivers should be considered, and the Shawsheen only to the dam at Stevens Street.

This recommendation has now been forwarded to the engineers and federal government for consideration.

Storage Permit Approved

Hewlett-Packard Co. was granted approval for storage of flammable fuel oils in tanks on their property off River Road by the selectmen Monday night.

The new medical electronics firm will be storing Number Two and Number Four fuel oil, diesel fuel and lacquer thinners, etc., in tanks on their property.

The tanks will be some distance from residential areas.

March Meetings

The next official meeting of the selectmen is scheduled for Monday, March 1, in Memorial Hall Library. Other March meetings for the board are set for March 15 and 29.

The selectmen also will attend a meeting with Management Consultants on Feb. 17 and 20 at 2 p.m., attend an Emergency Services night Feb. 24 at 7:30 p.m. at West Elementary School, and be represented at the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission session on Feb. 19 and the hearing on the county budget on Feb. 21 at 9:30 a.m. in Peabody.

To Discuss Law With Authors

Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen announced this week that authors of the new open meeting law have contacted him and will discuss the provisions at a later date.

The Andover selectmen have been opponents of certain provisions of the new law, particularly as it deals with evaluation of the town manager and their desire to meet in private with certain boards in work sessions from time to time.

Greenberg said the drafters of the legislation have agreed to sit with the local board and hear their views.

In some parts of Germany, Saint Nikolas brings along a frightening little man called Knech Ruprecht, or in other places, Pelznickle, who leaves birch rods for the naughty. Saint Nick leaves gifts for the good.

Local Draft Boards To Close Feb. 29

Effective Feb. 29, all existing Local Draft Boards of the Selective Service System will be closed.

As of that date the System will move into a standby status which will dispense with the annual lottery for draft sequence numbers and the requirement for 18 year old young men to register with the system will remain suspended. Neither will those men under age 26 be required to have Selective Service identification in their personal possession.

All requests for information should be directed to the Massachusetts State Headquarters in Boston - 617-223-6301.

Mastering The Gates

BWL Team Bows To Waltham

Andover, in its final team race of the season, bowed to Waltham by a point spread of 211 to 264. Waltham surprised Andover by coming up in the final few minutes of the event with a clean sweep in the 14 and 15 year old down hill run.

Andover, however, had captured the event by a slight margin in the seven through 13 age group with the following racers scoring team points:

Girls 7 and under: 1st Katrina Smith, 3rd Samantha Thomson; Girls 8 and 9: 2nd Sally White, 4th Tracey Hostetter; Girls 10 and 11: 1st Jana Caldwell, 2nd Amy Hostetter, 4th Tracy Thomson, 5th Linda Weiner, 6th Marilyn Ingram, 7th Heidi Blackman, 9th Jennifer Price; Girls 12 and 13: 3rd Karen Landy, 4th Ellen Teichert, 5th Carrie Smotrich, 9th Sarah Simpson; Girls 14 and 15: 5th Elizabeth Walsh, 6th Sydney Simpson, 8th Nancy Ingram.

Boys 7 and under: 2nd Robbie Carpentier, 3rd Rick McEvoy, 4th Brian Cronin; Boys 8 and 9: 3rd Ellis Eckel, 4th Robbie Teichert, 5th Tom Bride, 6th Jason Reeder; Boys 10 and 11: 1st Mike Smotrich, 2nd Victor Paul, 3rd Adam Reeder, 8th

Chris Mattsson; Boys 12 and 13: 4th David Roberts, 6th Eric Teichert, 8th Tim White; Boys 14 and 15: 8th Teddy Teichert, 9th David Herslein, 10th Don McEvoy.

The next Buddy Werner League event will be the finals in Waltham at Prospect Hill on Saturday, Feb. 28. This event will determine which racers will be eligible to participate in the Regional Championship races at Pat's Peak, New Hampshire, on Saturday, March 13. There will be teams from Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, and other eastern areas represented at this event. Last year, Massachusetts won the event by edging out Vermont.

The final meeting of the Andover Ski Club and the Buddy Werner Ski League will be held on Monday, Feb. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the West Junior High auditorium. Following that meeting will be a practice session on Tuesday, Feb. 24 at 6 p.m. at the Bradford ski area. This practice will be in preparation for the championship race and all racers are urged to attend.

YMCA Girl Swimmers Win

The Andover - North Andover YMCA's four age group girls' swimming teams produced a composite 173-149 against the Greendale Branch YMCA of Worcester in a meet contested at the new local pool last Saturday. The visitors won in "E" competition (8 years and under) and the locals won in the "B" division (14 years and under), both winning by one sided scores. In the more hotly contested "A" division (15-17 years) the local team won 45-40 and in the "C" division (11 and 12 years) lost 37-40. The total outcome was decided in the "D" division (9 and 10 years) which was won by the Andover - North Andover team 46-21.

In the "A" division Linda Kent was high scorer as she won the 100 yard breaststroke in 1:23.2, placed second in the 100 yard freestyle and was on the winning 400 yard freestyle relay team which won in 4:35.8, her team mates being Janet Moreau, Patty Barrett, and Laura Darwin. Sallie Reynolds won the 500 yard freestyle in 7:00.6 and was second in the 200 yard Individual Medley. Barrett was also first in the 50 yard freestyle in 28.8 and others scoring well for the locals were Mary Wall and Mary Beth Oskar and Cynthia Garrett.

Sue Tatem, Beth Hetley, Ann Hamel and Dale Johnson were high point girls in the "B" division.

Tatem won the 100 yard freestyle in 1:11.9 and the 200 yard freestyle in 2:42.2 and teamed with Hetley, Johnson and Christina Mattsson to win the 200 yard freestyle relay in 2:26.3. Johnson, Hetley and Hamel also teamed with Mattsson to win the 200 yard Medley relay in 2:25.6. Hetley also won the 50 yard freestyle in 30.0, Hamel won the 100 yard butterfly in 1:27.5 and Johnson won the 100 yard backstroke in 1:26.0. Elise Paradis placed second in two events.

In class "C" the 200 yard freestyle relay was won in 2:11.8 by the local team of Luanne Bates, Jane Oskar, Liz Reichter and Kate Riddiford. Oskar also won the 50 yard freestyle in 32.5 and Bates won the 100 yard freestyle in 1:14.3. Other point scorers included Jennifer Josly, Carolyn Bernier and Mary Lou Caron.

In class "D" Amy Price, Liz Higgins, Tracey McCoy teamed with Julie Churback to win the 200 yard medley relay in 2:37.8, and teamed with Liz Donahue to win the 200 yard freestyle relay in 2:29.3. Price also won the 50 yard freestyle in 37.5, Higgins won the 50 yard breaststroke in 42.5 and Churback won both the 50 yard backstroke in 38.0 and the 50 yard butterfly in 37.7. Christine Fortier aided the cause with three individual placings.

Winter Carnival Scheduled

A Winter Carnival will be held at the Merrimack Valley Ski Area, Hampshire Road, Methuen, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 13 and 14. Friday night will feature costume skiing and neighborliness about the fire. All Andover Residents are invited to ski from 7-10 p.m. at discount prices.

On Saturday, races for all ages will be held with registration at 9 a.m. Exhibition skiing and a Free Style competition open to all will be held at 1 p.m. with a Cross Country Ski Clinic beginning a tour at 2 p.m. No Cross Country rentals are available at the area so participants are asked to have their own equipment.

Bantams Off To Canada

By Rick Harrison

The Andover A traveling hockey team will hit the road for Ontario, Canada this Sunday, opening its annual week-long, five-game school vacation trip to Toronto and Oshawa.

Last weekend Coach Dick Neal's club continued to have problems putting the puck in the net, dropping a tough 2-1 decision to the visiting Rochester, N.H. Bantams at Phillips Academy.

Another scheduled game at PA failed to materialize when Portsmouth, N.H. did not show up for a return match following an earlier 3-3 tie.

The single setback left the locals with a 4-8-2 overall record.

Andover had three more chances to improve on that record this week, however, with a trio of games slated prior to the Canadian junket.

Last Tuesday night, after TOWNSMAN presstime, Andover faced Lynnfield at Beverly in a return engagement. Tonight at 7:30 p.m. Andover is at Assabet Valley, and Saturday evening at 6 o'clock the locals host the Hanover, N.H. Bantams at Phillips Academy.

Andover defeated all three of these teams in earlier games.

Rochester, 2-1

Andover drew first blood a mere 2:07 after the opening faceoff, as rookie Bruce Belbin took a return pass from linemate Ken Southworth and snapped home an eight-footer for his second seasonal goal.

Rochester ties it 1-1 at 4:34 of the middle period when a 55-foot shot along the ice eluded goalie Todd Bateson to the far corner.

The game-winning goal was notched at 8:45 of the final stanza, and Neal had nothing but praise for the Rochester player.

"The young man moved through four of our defenders and scored on a 10-foot shot," recalled the coach. "It was a good, determined effort."

Andover had four powerplay opportunities in the game and Rochester three. The locals pulled goaltender Bateson with 20 seconds left and had a two-man advantage, but they couldn't net the equalizer.

These evenly-matched teams will play again in mid-March.

Canada

The Andover entourage will depart by bus at 7 a.m. this Sunday, and highlighting the day of travel will be an afternoon tour of Niagara Falls. Estimated arrival time in Toronto is 5:30 p.m., and the group will stay at a hotel while in the city.

Monday will feature a two-hour morning practice at the Forest Hill Arena, an hour-long afternoon tour of the Hockey Hall of Fame, and the first game that evening at 6 p.m. at the North Toronto Memorial Arena.

Tuesday will bring a 90-minute practice at the McCormick Arena, an hour-long recreational swim, some free time in the city and game two at 6 p.m. in the Forest Hill Arena.

Wednesday morning it's back to the practice ice for 90 minutes at Moss Park Arena, and the afternoon will be spent at Bloorview Children's Hospital where the Andover players annually visit the young patients.

three in Canada will follow at 5 o'clock. After the contest Andover players will disperse with their host families, as the parents of Oshawa youngsters house the local boys for several days.

Friday morning will include an eye-opening 9 a.m. practice at Civic Auditorium, followed by a 45-minute swim. A 2-hour tour of the General Motors plant nearby will occupy the afternoon, and game four begins at 5 p.m.

Saturday the fifth-and-final game faces off at 9 a.m., and after all goodbyes are said the Andover group starts for home at 11 a.m. Stops along the way for lunch and dinner should get the troops home by 10 p.m.

Andover Youth Basketball League Results

The AYBL completed the last of its regularly scheduled double-headers last week. The Seniors played their regular schedule on Monday night, and the Intermediates played theirs on Wednesday. All teams then played another game apiece on Saturday.

The Intermediates began their second-half schedule with two extended winning streaks remaining alive. First-half champ Villanova's went to 9 while surprising Northeastern's went to 6. In the minors, the Panthers extended their streak to 7, dropping the first-half champion Lions in the process.

The Lakers took over undisputed possession of first place in the Senior Division. The Lakers need one more game to wrap up the division's first-half crown.

Dartmouth - 20

Dartmouth threw a scare into first half champ Villanova in one of the division's best games to date. Villanova's 13-8 lead at the half dwindled to 17-16 after 3 periods. In the last minute of play Dartmouth held a 20-19 lead, but Villanova's John Smith hit the winning hoop with 16 seconds remaining.

Villanova: Smith 7, Carmen Scarpa 6, Mike White 6 and Mark Haddad 2.

Dartmouth: Chris Doherty 12, Mike Brown 2, Glen Johnson 2, Mark Nardone 2 and Scott Tobey 2.

Boston College - 26
Harvard - 18

A 20 point effort by Ted Kelley powered B.C. to a win over the flu-bitten Crimson. B.C. built up a 16-8 halftime lead and then matched hoops with Harvard.

B.C.: Kelley 20, Dick Kelley 4 and Kevin Canavan 2.

Harvard: Tom Beaumier 7, Scott Zimmerman 6 and Todd Zimmerman 5.

N. Carolina State - 33

Holy Cross: John Franco 9, Jim De Piano 6, Tim Bolduc 2, Frank De Piano 2, Jim Terrion 2 and Bill Vickers 2.

Northeastern - 24
Boston University - 10

Northeastern picked up its 5th consecutive victory in downing B.U. Northeastern lost its first 3 games and has charged back to rack up 5 straight wins.

Six Huskies tallied 4 points apiece: Frank Beaty, Barry Goodman, Ted Liszewski, Mike Sherman, Steve Smith and Neil Twomey.

B.U.: Eric Feingold 4, John Merola 4 and Andy Emmert 2.

Saturday's Games

Two winning streaks remained alive. Villanova's went to 9 and Northeastern's went to 6, both teams winning handily.

Villanova - 36
Boston College - 28

Villanova, trailing 12-10 at the half, found the hoop in the second stanza and chalked up its 9th straight win. Villanova's 12 point outburst in the final period was decisive, with five players sharing in the total led by Eric Fredette's 4 points. Fredette finished with 17 for the game.

Villanova: Fredette 17, Mike White 7, John Smith 5, Carmen Scarpa 4, Dave Fredette 2 and Mark Haddad 1.

B.C.: Ted Kelley 18, Dick Kelley 6 and Kevin Canavan 4.

Northeastern - 25
Holy Cross - 16

The Huskies continued their winning ways in dropping Holy Cross. Northeastern: Steve Smith 9, Mike Sherman 7, Frank Beaty 5, John Atanasoff 2 and Ted Liszewski 2.

Holy Cross: Chris Bedell 8, Jim and Frank De Piano 2 apiece, Jim Terrion 2 and Bill Vickers 2.

Dartmouth - 31
Boston University - 12

Dartmouth evened its record at 1-1 at the expense of B.U. The game was close for two periods, but the Green won going away as B.U. wilted in the second stanza.

Dartmouth: Chris Doherty 15, John Pelletier 10, Mark Nardone 4 and Mike Brown 2.

B.U.: Joe Buzzett 4, John Merola 4, Dave Barker 2 and Andy Emmert 2.

Wednesday's Games

The opener of the division's 2nd half found the Panthers keeping their winning streak alive, extending it to six straight after two early losses. The first half champ Lions also continued their winning ways.

Bears - 22
Tigers - 19

The Bears picked up their first win of the division's 2nd half in a thriller with the Tigers. The two teams were never more than a bucket apart until the final period. Tied at 18 at the end of 3 periods, the Bears pulled it out behind Mark Easton's 3 point play.

Bears: Mike McGrath 8, Dennis McGrath 6, Easton 4, Frank Drake 2 and Pat McLarney 2. Jim Lowe and John Nardoza were defensive leaders.

Tigers: John Kramer 9, Jon Baer 4, Dan Fleming 2, Ron Lindquist 2 and Tom Witt 2. Guy Brooksbank and John Hurley played fine defensive games.

Cheetas - 13
Jaguars - 7

The Cheetas topped the Jaguars in a tight defensive battle. The Cheetas rode a 7 point halftime margin to their victory.

Cheetas: Matt Wells 7 and Chris Reichert 6. Adam Roberts and Ken Smith keyed the defense.

Dave Checkik had all 7 Jaguars points. Steve Kilmain, Hugh Meier and Sean Norris played fine floor games.

Panthers - 14
Cougars - 7

The Panthers picked up their sixth consecutive win in another low-scoring contest. A 6 point Panthers bulge in the first period was the winning margin as the teams then traded hoops.

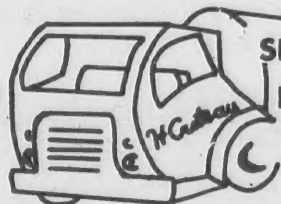

Panthers: Rich Morano 6, Scott Gardner 4, Tim Hart 2 and Phil Puccia 2. Adam Edelsberg and Andy McKissack led the defense.

Senior Division Monday's Games

The Celtics and the Lakers continued their winning ways and set the stage for Saturday's showdown.

Celtics - 39 Knicks - 33

The division co-leading Celtics found the Knicks no easy going. The Celts did, however, prevail in the very close game. Period scores were 10-8, 19-15, and 33-25 with the Celtics never trailing.

Celtics: Mike Yuska 11, Bill Hall 10, Will Washburn 10, Bill Smith 4 and Bruce Turgiss 4.

Knicks: Bob Kilgo 11, Mike Curley 6 and 4 apiece for Dave Dehm, Jim Hayes, Bob Heidt and Mark Pearson.

Hawks - 41 Jazz - 31

The Hawks remained in contention by dropping the Jazz. A 10 point bulge in the second quarter proved the margin as both teams traded baskets in the other periods.

Hawks: Paul Kelly 12, Kevin Daly 10, Mike Terrion 9, Bob Beaudine 4, Bruce Garrett 2, Scott Nolin 2 and Jon Wilson 2.

Jazz: Steve Doherty 16 and Andy Powell 15.

Lakers - 71 Bulls - 47

The Lakers kept their hold on first place by besting the Bulls in a high-scoring affair. The Lakers placed four players in double digits in picking up their victory.

Lakers: Larry Larrabee 21, Ed Goodman 20, Keith Sampson 14, Rich Gusmini 10 and Bob Patterson 6.

Bulls: Frank Griggs 25, Joel Smith 10, Bob Conroy and Chuck Fleming 4.

Braves - 82 Cavaliers - 58

The flu bug bit both teams. Playing short-handed, the clubs engaged in a real shootout. Mike Donohue tallied a personal and an AYBL high of 55 points.

Braves: Donohue 55, Rob Wilkins 22, Jeff Saulnier 4 and Jay Flynn 1.

Cavaliers: Jamie Coombes 26, Jim Wetterberg 26 and Dave Carignan 6.

Bullets - 45 Warriors - 41

The Bullets charged back from a 10 point halftime deficit to tie the Warriors at the end of 3 periods. A 10-6 last period bulge was the winning margin.

Bullets: Jeff Rosen 28, Brian Staid 9, Ira Gold 4, Jay Di Iorio 2 and Steve Rathbun 2.

Warriors: Dave Nardone 28, Mike Beaty 6, Ralph Hancock 4 and Doug Russell 3.

Saturday's Games

The division co-leading Celtics and Lakers met in a battle of the undefeateds. When the smoke cleared, the Lakers emerged victorious, taking a big step to the division's first-half crown.

Knicks - 34 Bullets - 33

The Knicks and Bullets set the stage for the first-place showdown by staging one of the division's best games to date. Both teams were alternately hot and cold, trading basket for basket and turnover for turnover. A two point spread with the Knicks leading 8-6 at the end of the first quarter was the game's biggest margin. The Bullets led at the end of the middle periods, 21-20 and 26-25. The last period bulge was led by the Knicks Bob Heidt who tallied 7 of his 17 total points in the final period.

Knicks: Heidt 17, Jim Hayes 8, Steve Mosher 4, Dave Dehm 2, Brad Lindquist 2 and Mark Pearson 1.

Bullets: Jeff Rosen 14, Ira Gold 7, Whit Mac Donald 7, Jim Connolly 3, and Brian Staid 2.

Lakers - 32 Celtics - 29

The championship game was a real classic with comebacks, individual heroics, etc. The Lakers trailed at the end of the first three periods with scores at 5-10, 17-22, and 20-26. Then the Lakers Larry Larrabee got hot and hit 8 of his total 12 points in the final quarter to lead the Lakers to victory.

Lakers: Larrabee 12, Ed Goodman 10, Keith Sampson 6, Jim Hamilton 2, Mike Mac Donald 1 and Bob Patterson 1.

Celtics: Bill Hall 14, Will Washburn 10, Mike Yuska 4 and John Hoyle 1.

Warriors - 37 Jazz - 31

In another close contest the Warriors edged by the improving Jazz, while the Warriors never trailed, the Jazz kept close. Period scores were 9-8, 17-14 and 25-19. Warriors: Dave Nardone 18, Doug Russell 6, Dennis Sheehan 6, John Catalano 4, Ralph Hancock 2 and Ben Bram 1.

Jazz: Andy Powell 11, Bob Meier 10, Rob Wilkins 9 and Andy Cobin 1.

Superstars Outlast Sanborn

With Ellie Keefe and Debbie LaSota scoring four points each and Elise Balboni scoring two points, the Sanborn Superstars defeated arch rival, Sanborn Supersonics, 10-4, last week.

The Supersonics came up with a tremendous defensive effort in limiting the highly favored Superstars to their low-scoring game thus far. Leading the aggressive defense were Jessica Balboni and Suan Plummer. Adding additional interest to these two Sanborn teams was the sister competition. Elise Balboni and Amy Hostetter, members of the victorious superstars, faced Jessica Balboni and Stacey and Tracey Hostetter, for the losing but determined Supersonics.

The win gained the Superstars a 6-1 record and a chance to enter the four team play-offs.

The St. Augustine Bullets of two undefeated teams still in the three divisions of the Dover Church Basketball League continue to set the pace in Junior Division with a perfect record.

One round of action received the Bancroft School saw Bullets nip the St. Robert's Celtics, 3-2, while the Augustine Pistons blanked the Braves, 13-0.

Another set of recent games featured the Celtics over the Braves, 10-0, and the Bullets over the Pistons, 4-0.

St. Robert's To Hold

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's rallied in the fourth quarter to edge Augustine A, 39-35, Ballardvale United slammed Free Church 30 for its first win, and Augustine B fought off a charge to nudge South Church 33-31, in Senior Division play the Andover Church Basketball League.

The results left St. Robert's which is seeking its second Senior championship in years, with a division-leading overall record.

St. Augustine B remained on the pacesetters' trail with 2 ledger, while St. Augustine slipped back to 5-3 and saw a four-game victory snapped.

BU Wins, 47-30

Ballardvale United never behind enroute to its triumph over Free, as first quarter buckets by Jay McLeod, Livingston, Kevin Hollen, Carolyn Darling and Jeff boosted the victors to a 10-4 lead.

Glenn Wade hooped six in the second period as Free the deficit to 18-16 at half. But Betty Darling, Livingston and Roy combined for 13 points the third stanza as BU increased its advantage to 32-22. A United spread in the fourth quarter sealed the verdict.

Jeff Roy led eight BU players into the scoring column with points. Dave Livingston caught Kevin Hollenbeck 9, Betty Darling 7, Jay McLeod 5, Tim Livingston 4, Carolyn Darling 3 and Russell swished a free throw.

Dave Brown also played for Ballardvale.

Glenn Wade, scoring in the quarter, emerged as game MVP for Free with 13 points. Awley and Doug Kirkland 4 apiece. Keith Williams, Mike Travis canned 3 each. Lindstrom netted a second quarter basket and Mike delivered a free throw.

Gary Lindstrom and Kirkland were other Free players.

The game was punctuated by personal fouls, 20 against BU, 19 against Free.

BU held an 18-12 edge at fieldgoals, and United converted 11-of-21 foul shots while Free 6-of-18.

Free won their first season meeting, 24-23, with a last minute rally.

St. Robert's, 39-35

St. Robert's, a 34-24 victory over St. Augustine A in their encounter, had more problems this time around before capturing its seventh consecutive victory.

St. Augustine A grabbed the first quarter lead, and clung to a 16-14 halftime advantage. Marciano notched five made for St. Robert's in the period, but solo buckets by

St. Augustine's Maintains Pace

By Rick Harrison

The St. Augustine Bullets, one of two undefeated teams still left in the three divisions of the Andover Church Basketball League, continue to set the pace in the Junior Division with a perfect 4-0 record.

One round of action recently at the Bancroft School saw the Bullets nip the St. Robert's Celtics, 3-2, while the St. Augustine Pistons blanked the Braves, 13-0.

Another set of recent games featured the Celtics over the Braves, 10-0, and the Bullets over the Pistons, 4-0.

One week ago Tuesday the Bullets continued to ride high with an 8-5 conquest of the Celtics, and the Pistons whitewashed the Braves, 8-0.

Divisional play resumed last Tuesday evening, after TOWNSMAN presstime, with the Bullets trying to extend their two-game advantage over the rest of the pack.

Celtics, 10-0

Matt Dispensa scored in the first quarter for the only bucket the Celtics would need, but Eddie Melia connected in the second stanza to make it 4-0 at halftime.

Kevin Byrne swished a pair of third period baskets, and Matt Dispensa added his second fieldgoal, completing the Celts' 10-0 win over the Braves.

Dispensa and Byrne led the way with 4 points apiece, while other standouts for the victors were Scott Lemieux, Mike Melia, Jon MacLean and Richie Burns.

Sparking the Braves' effort were Chris Wright, Allen Gable, Tom Dolan, Geoff Dowell, Steve Harris, Jim Daley and Mike Hogg.

Bullets, 4-0

Second quarter baskets by Pedro Gleason and Jim Wiseman accounted for all the offense in this tight defensive struggle, as the Bullets nipped the Pistons in their battle for first place.

Other Bullets' leaders were Pete Walsh, Danny Beckerman, John Nerden, Mark Townsend, Dick Nerden and John Madden.

Contributing fine performances for the Pistons were Dave Caiati, Tony Holbrook, Ken and Kevin Flynn, Mike Surette, Dennis Sullivan, John Recesso, Brian Mackey and Dana Belpedio.

Pistons, 8-0

Kenny Flynn snapped a scoreless deadlock with a second period fieldgoal for the Pistons, giving them a 2-0 halftime bulge over the Braves.

Dave Caiati caged a third quarter 2-pointer, and single baskets by Kevin Flynn and Dennis Sullivan added some fourth stanza insurance to polish off the well-balanced St. Augustine attack.

Bullets, 8-5

The Bullets did all their damage early, then fought back a late charge by the Celtics to push the losers two games off the pace.

First quarter buckets by John Nerden, Jim Wiseman and Pedro Gleason provided the Bullets with a 6-0 bulge.

Matt Dispensa retaliated with 3 points for the Celts in the second frame, but Rich Nerden countered for the Bullets to make it 8-3 at half.

The rivals raced up-and-down the floor with many near misses on both sides, and finally Eddie Melia netted the only score of the last half to cut the final deficit to 8-5.

St. Robert's Rallies To Hold League Lead

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's rallied in the fourth quarter to edge St. Augustine A, 39-35, Ballardvale United slammed Free Church 47-30 for its first win, and St. Augustine B fought off a late charge to nudge South Church, 33-31, in Senior Division play of the Andover Church Basketball League.

The results left St. Robert's, which is seeking its second Senior championship in three years, with a division-leading 7-1 overall record.

St. Augustine B remained hot on the pacesetters' trail with a 6-2 ledger, while St. Augustine A slipped back to 5-3 and saw its four-game victory string snapped.

BU Wins, 47-30

Ballardvale United never fell behind enroute to its triumph over Free, as first quarter buckets by Jay McLeod, Dave Livingston, Kevin Hollenbeck, Carolyn Darling and Jeff Roy boosted the victors to a 10-4 lead.

Glenn Wade hooped six points in the second period as Free cut the deficit to 18-16 at halftime. But Betty Darling, Livingston and Roy combined for 13 points in the third stanza as BU increased its advantage to 32-22. A 15-8 United spread in the fourth quarter sealed the verdict.

Jeff Roy led eight BU players into the scoring column with 10 points. Dave Livingston caged 9, Kevin Hollenbeck 9, Betty Darling 7, Jay McLeod 5, Tim Lemay 4 (all in the fourth period), Carolyn Darling 3 and Russ Bird swished a free throw.

Dave Brown also played well for Ballardvale.

Glenn Wade, scoring in every quarter, emerged as game-high for Free with 13 points. Doug Awley and Doug Kirkland added 4 apiece. Keith Williams and Mike Travis canned 3 each. Scott Lindstrom netted a second quarter basket and Mike King delivered a free throw.

Gary Lindstrom and Phil Kirkland were other Free standouts.

The game was punctuated by 39 personal fouls, 20 against BU and 19 against Free.

BU held an 18-12 edge in fieldgoals, and United converted 11-of-21 foul shots while Free hit 6-of-18 charities.

Free won their first seasonal meeting, 24-23, with a last-half rally.

St. Robert's, 39-35

St. Robert's, a 34-24 winner over St. Augustine A in their first encounter, had more problems this time around before chalking up its seventh consecutive victory.

St. Augustine A grabbed a 9-6 first quarter lead, and clung to a 16-14 halftime advantage. Rich Marciano notched five markers for St. Robert's in the third period, but solo buckets by Jim Hayes, Terry Schwing, Bob Beaudine, Dan Russo and Bob Oelwang kept St. Augustine atop a 26-23 score after three.

Fouls killed the losers in the last stanza, as St. Robert's went to the line 13 times and connected on six while outpointing St. Augustine 16-9 in the quarter.

Scott Praetz was game-high scorer for St. Robert's with 12 points, six of them in the pivotal final period.

Divisional scoring leader John McNamara (101 points) chipped in 11, marking the eighth straight game the lefty has reached double figures.

Rich Marciano bagged 9 points, Brian Rockwell 5 and Steve Leitch swished two fourth quarter foul shots.

Dan Saunders and Gregg Praetz were other St. Robert's leaders.

The characteristically well-balanced St. Augustine A offense featured Terry Schwing with 9 points, Jim Hayes 7, Dan Russo 7, Rich Gusmini 4, Bob Beaudine 3, Dave Gusmini 3 and Bob Oelwang 2 points.

Joe Torrisi starred defensively for St. Augustine A.

This contest was marred by 35 personal fouls, 20 against St. Augustine and 15 to St. Robert's.

The losers managed a 14-13 edge in fieldgoals, but St. Robert's converted 13-of-31 free throws to 7-of-16 for St. Augustine.

The charity stripe obviously made the difference in the game.

St. Augustine B, 33-31

St. Augustine B swept its season's series with South Church, although the second time around was much tougher than the 33-19 opener.

A big second quarter turned the trick for the league runners-up, as they overcame a 9-3 first period deficit with an 18-4 explosion.

Dan Caselden and John Walsh were the main sharpshooters in the second frame, pouring in 7

St. Augustine's Teams Set Pace

By Rick Harrison

First-place St. Augustine B raced to its seventh straight victory, and runner-up St. Augustine A snapped the four-game win streak of Christ Church, highlighting Intermediate Division action in the Andover Church Basketball League Monday night at the East Junior High gym.

St. Augustine B stretched its record to 7-0, outscoring scrappy St. Robert's B in every quarter enroute to a 45-26 victory.

St. Augustine A (6-1) fell behind in the opening period, but then came on strong to sink Christ Church, 27-13.

St. Augustine D (5-2) remained in title contention with a 39-6 romp over St. Augustine C, and St. Robert's A (5-2) kept pace in third place following its 19-12 conquest of South Church.

Much-improved Ballardvale United continued to turn its season around, edging St.

Robert's C 27-22 for its second successive victory.

St. Augustine B, 45-26

Big center Jack Horan resumed his scoring exploits against St. Robert's B, pumping in seven first stanza points to help the front-runners to a 12-4 bulge after six minutes.

Horan added six markers in the second quarter as St. Augustine B upped its lead to 22-9 by half-time.

Dick Danner swished all five St. Robert's tallies in the third period, when the difference was cut to 24-14, but Dave Barker's seven points keyed a 21-12 St. Augustine run in the finale to wrap up win No. 7.

Seven players entered the scoring act for the victors, led by Jack Horan who stuffed 19 points. Bill Caselden netted 9, Dave Barker had 7, Mark Perowski 4 and solo buckets were notched by Steve Paradis, Tim Madden and Larry Torrisi.

Paul Tassanari canned 12 points for St. Robert's B, including four free throws and eight markers in the fourth quarter. Danner chipped in 12 points and Neil Saunders delivered a second period basket.

St. Augustine A, 27-13

Christ Church surged ahead 7-4 in the opening session, thanks to five points by Mark Rogers and some fine defensive work on the high-scoring St. Augustine A combine.

But Ted Kelley heated up in the second canto, flipping through six points as the winners grabbed a slim 14-11 cushion at intermission.

Buckets by Mike White and Ted Kelley comprised the entire offense of both teams in a defensive third frame, making it all 18-11.

Fourth quarter fieldgoals were registered by White, Kelley, Tim Corkery and Dick Kelley of St. Augustine A, while Mark Rogers swished a brace of foul shots as the only answering fire for Christ Church.

Ted Kelley once again emerged as game-high marksman with 13 points. Mike White and Tim Corkery canned 6 point apiece, while Dick Kelley had 2.

Mark Rogers bagged 9 points for the losers, now 4-3 overall, but the only support mustered by his mates were first-half floor shots by Dave Menard and John Rogers.

Mark Frost was neutralized by foul troubles, but he and Tim Slansfield also played well for Christ Church.

BU Wins, 27-22

Ballardvale United followed its first triumph last week with another, fashioning a large 21-6 halftime bulge over St. Robert's C and then coasting home. Todd McLeod (11 points) and Glen Acciardi (8) were the big hitters over the first two quarters for United.

McLeod added a fourth period fieldgoal to emerge as game-high with 13 points. Glen Acciardi chipped in 8 and single buckets were caged by Gary Forbes, Paul Thoday and Rodney Hollenbeck.

Countering for St. Robert's C was Tony Romano, who netted all of his team-high 10 points in the second half. Pumping through 4 markers apiece were Mike Damphousse, Scott Noffle and Yvonne Levesque.

St. Augustine D, 39-6

St. Augustine D had some problems getting untracked, but after intermission the winners shifted into overdrive and sped out of sight.

Ernie Costello and Pat Beaudine pocketed first quarter baskets to give the D-team a 4-0 edge over sister club St.

Five points by E.J. Perry helped his club to an 11-time lead, although Kaminski broke the C drought with two fieldgoals.

Perry gunned in eight minutes to spark a 12-0 D-team run in the third quarter, and a balanced assault featured fourth stanza blitz to produce 39-6 final.

E.J. Perry poured in 17 points to top all shooters, while Beaudine and Don Greene each had 8 markers each. Ernie Costello stuffed 4 points and Beaudine found the range.

Brian Beckerman and L'Italien were other D-standouts.

Five points by E.J. Perry helped his club to an 11-4 half-time lead, although Paul Kaminski broke the C-team drought with two fieldgoals.

Perry gunned in eight markers to spark a 12-0 D-team run in the third quarter, and a well-balanced assault featured a 16-2 fourth stanza blitz to produce the 39-6 final.

E.J. Perry poured in 17 points to top all shooters, while Pat Beaudine and Don Greene added 8 markers each. Ernie Costello stuffed 4 points and Mike Beaudine found the range for 2.

Brian Beckerman and Ed L'Italien were other D-team standouts.

Paul Kaminski was a one-player show for the C-team, scoring all 6 points. Others contributing fine floor games were Chris O'Reilly, Phil Milot and Steve Farrington.

St. Robert's A, 19-12

Phil Farr and Bob Leitch dunked single baskets in the first quarter as St. Robert's A inched to a slim 4-3 advantage over upset-minded South.

Art Dunlavey had a bucket and Dale Lattanzio a charity toss to keep it close for the eventual losers.

Bob Lemieux popped through 4 points, while Farr and Leitch produced another floor connection apiece, as St. Robert's reeled off eight uncontested second quarter points for a 12-3 halftime spread.

Dale Lattanzio and Bruce Barnhill did some eagle-eye shooting in the last half, but it wasn't quite enough as the South bid fell short.

Phil Farr paced the well-balanced St. Robert's A charge with 7 markers. Bob Leitch and Lemieux added 4 points each, Pete Byrne 2 and Kevin Byrne 2. Ken Saliba starred defensively for the victors.

Dale Lattanzio fired in 6 points, Bruce Barnhill 4 and Art Dunlavey 2 for South. Scott Robichaud and Paul Newton also played well.

points apiece to give St. Augustine a 21-13 halftime lead.

South kept chipping away after intermission, however, as Steve Hughes pocketed six points in the third period to help South close to 29-23.

Ted Stammers flipped in four markers in the fourth session, as South outscored St. Augustine 8-4 but pulled no closer than the 33-31 final.

Dan Caselden topped the winners' point parade with 9, while John Walsh scored 7, Tom Walsh 6, Frank Robinson 6, John Perkowski 3 and Scott Boucher 2.

Steve Hughes took over second place in the divisional scoring race, sparking South with a game-high 10 points. Ted Stammers bagged 9, Steve Rathbun 8 and Bill Calthorpe 4.

John Sagaser and Todd Hughes were other South players who contributed fine floor games.

The game was interrupted by 34 personal fouls, 18 against South and 16 against St. Augustine B.

Once again the free throw line proved decisive. South managed a 13-13 tie in fieldgoals, but St. Augustine hit 7-of-16 foul shots to 5-of-12 for South.

Yale Slavic Chorus At Phillips Academy

The Yale Slavic Chorus will be performing in the Underwood Room at Phillips Academy on Sunday, Feb. 15 at 3:30 p.m. The chorus is a group of approximately 30 Yale affiliated women, mostly undergraduate students, which specializes in women's village music of Eastern Europe.

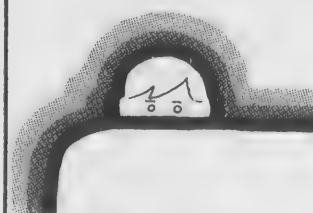

The chorus sings in every Slavic language, but the present performance will emphasize the music of Russia and other areas of the USSR as a compliment to the Russian language program at the academy. Other languages represented in the program include Bulgarian, Macedonian and Croatian.

Women's music of eastern Europe differs greatly from the more familiar and clearly masculine music of the Cossack and Russian army type. Rather it is often closer to the music of the Near East and includes intervals and glottal tones often unfamiliar to the Western ear. The chorus attempts to preserve this unique sound in all of its presentations, but since much of women's village music is traditional ly sung in pairs rather than in full chorus, several duets are included in the program as well. These songs frequently include a drone or base line of unchanging pitch as a counterpoint to the melody, much like the drone and melody of a bagpipe. Intricate rhythm is also characteristic of Slavic women's music, which is often the only accompaniment for the khoras or round dances typical of the area.

The chorus itself is non-profit and sings for the pleasure of sharing this music with as wide an audience as possible. While some of its members are students of Slavic cultures, many have no prior knowledge of either Slavic languages or music when they enter the chorus. Others are of Slavic ancestry and familiar with both from childhood. The chorus bridges the gap between East and West in both its membership and the nature of its performance. In concert all songs are sung in their original languages, but each is introduced and the story-line explained for the benefit of the audience.

Similarly, the chorus is constantly instructing itself by contact with native speakers, singers and other experts and maintains a continually growing repertoire of new music.

The public is invited to attend, and there is no charge for admission.

Vacation Church School

There will be a three day course offered at Ballard Vale United Church on Feb. 16, 17 and 18 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The children will be divided into two groups. One will include first to third grades and the other fourth to sixth grades. Children are asked to provide their lunch and we will supply drink and cookies.

The first to third grades' study unit is titled "Learning About Myself - A Child of God". This unit will be taught by Ruth Mattheson with Aimee Poor assisting. The children will be helped to explore their feelings and thoughts and find out about themselves.

The fourth through sixth grades' study unit will be "Making Right Choices" taught by Joyce Robinson. This class will deal with such questions as: Are people really special? Is every person as important to God as I am? Why doesn't God keep me from doing bad? Will God love me if I do wrong? Why do people and I do wrong even when we know what is right? How does the Bible help me do what is right? Does what I do matter to God? to others?

The music program will be directed by Donna Hirsch. The kitchen needs will be met by Carol Stephens and crafts will be led by Hannah Darling. Coordinator of the program is Lorna McIntyre and several youth from the church will be assisting.

All children are invited. Register with Hannah Darling.

Special Program At Temple

A special musical Sabbath Service will be included in the Sabbath Eve Service of Friday night, Feb. 13 at Temple Emanuel, 483 Lowell St., Lawrence.

This special musical program, prepared in recognition of Jewish Music Month, is under the direction of Mrs. Bernice Birnbach of Andover. Participating at this time will be - Dana Cohen, clarinet; Jay Lustig, saxophone; Michael Turow, piano; Dan Edelstein, trombone and guitar, and David Birnbach, drums. The vocal portions of the program will be sung by Mrs. Birnbach and Dana Cohen.

The Sabbath Eve Service will be conducted by Rabbi Harry A. Roth and the liturgical portion will be chanted by the Temple cantor, Cantor Irving Shuman.

Mrs. Birnbach and the group have prepared a series of selections of Hassidic and Israeli liturgical music.

The president of Temple Emanuel, George Urdang, extends an invitation to all music lovers to be the guests of Temple Emanuel for this special Jewish music liturgical service.

Jazz Weekend Set For Governor Dummer

Thaw out that mid-winter cold with the hot beat of Dixieland jazz at Governor Dummer Academy Feb. 27 and 28! An unusual package of jazz to suit everyone's taste is scheduled for Friday and Saturday evenings, with the public invited to attend one or both nights. Joe Robertson on trombone and his legendary group of jazz artists will be returning to the stage for two benefit performances.

Friday evening's concert for the more serious jazz buffs will be held in the Thompson Art Center auditorium at 8 p.m. A full evening of Dixieland jazz will feature many of the all-time masters such as those appearing in past years at Governor Dummer: clarinetist Herbie Hall; Joseph Battaglia on piano; George Poor on trumpet; and world-famous jazz vocalist Maxine Sullivan.

On Saturday, Feb. 28, an evening of jazz and dance will be enjoyed in the Alumni Gymnasium with tables seating 8-10 set up in cabaret style. There will be dancing, a cash bar, pitchers of beer, and the best of Dixieland jazz.

The sell-out crowd of last year prompted the Governor Dummer Allies to expand the jazz concert to two nights this year. Money raised will be used to support the school's scholarship fund. Tickets may be purchased by writing to Mrs. Sally Tindall, Governor Dummer Academy, Byfield, Massachusetts, 01922

Heading up the Jazz Committee for the Governor Dummer Allies are Mrs. Lindsay Cavanagh, Mrs. Susan Saunders, and Mrs. Sally Tindall of Newbury. Those assisting are Mrs. Joanne Adams, Mrs. Ruth Baker, Mrs. Sarah Fyrberg, Mrs. Pat Jones, Mrs. Beverly Kennedy, and Mrs. Sheila Ragle of Governor Dummer Academy, Mrs. Joanne Purinton of Newbury, Mrs. Elizabeth Cawley, Mrs. Barbara Lovejoy, and Mrs. Anne Minster of West Newbury, Mrs. Dede Titcomb of Boxford, and Mrs. Lyn Beattie, Mrs. Shirley French, and Mrs. Helen Sapuppo of Andover. Last year's tickets were sold out two weeks prior to the performance.

Clown Town Preparations

Workshop For Clown Town

Members of the Andona Society are already planning and preparing for the annual Clown Town event to be held on May 15 at the Andover Playstead from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Gaily decorated hand puppets are prepared in great quantities many weeks in advance of the May date.

As the purpose of all of An-dona's events is to raise money for Andover youth, so the goal of Clown Town is to provide entertainment and a fun-filled day for all of the children who attend and support the event.

An old-fashioned circus atmosphere prevails on the day complete with rides, cotton candy, refreshments, games and a big show.

Andona members arrive at the playstead early in the morning to set up the booths, drive stakes into the ground, rope off areas and nail up signs.

In anticipation of the crowds, by 9:30 the girls have donned their clown suits and are ready for a busy day which has become an Andover tradition.

Appointed Director

Nancy Wheatley

Nancy Wheatley, recently named New England Regional Director of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Alumni Association, and Robert D. Blake, special assistant in the Office of the Secretary of the Institute, have been appointed to new positions in the Alumni Association.

Ms. Wheatley, formerly assistant dean for student affairs, will assume the job of director of conferences and special programs, and assistant to the executive vice president of the Alumni Association.

Mr. Blake, who has worked with Vincent P. Fulmer, Secretary of the Institute, since 1970, will assume Ms. Wheatley's current position as New England Regional Director.

There are four other regional directors responsible for alumni relations in the United States: Ronald S. Stone in the West; Joseph Edwards, Southeast; Daniel J. Fingerma, Midwest; Steven P. Denker, New York region.

James A. Champy, executive vice president of the Alumni Association, who announced the appointments, said both Ms. Wheatley and Mrs. Blake would be directly concerned with strengthening alumni involvement in all areas, including M.I.T.'s ongoing $225 Leadership Campaign.

Ms. Wheatley, an M.I.T. alumna (S.B. '71), will provide staff support for such activities as Alumni Association regional conferences, fund raising for the Independent Residence Development Fund (which has traditionally loaned money to M.I.T.'s fraternities), a newly appointed committee designed to involve more alumni in M.I.T., and a variety of other Association activities.

Her responsibilities in the Office of the Dean for Student Affairs, where she worked from 1972-75, included planning for the Undergraduate Seminar Program, the Freshman Advisory Council, Residence - Orientation Week, both undergraduate and graduate housing programs, the Faculty and Graduate Resident Program and the personal counselling of students.

Ms. Wheatley resides in Andover with her husband.

At Conference

Elementary school students from the Doherty School were among the 120 children from grades 1-6 who participated in the second annual Young Writers' Conference held at the Lesley College Graduate School of Education in Cambridge.

Mrs. Demetrios Panagopoulos

Panagopoulos - Axelrod

Miss Nancy Ellen Axelrod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Axelrod of Andover, became the bride Jan. 18 of Mr. Demetrios Panagopoulos. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Georgios Panagopoulos of Athens, Greece.

The wedding took place in the home of the bride's parents, 27 Alden Road, and the bride's father, a justice of the peace, performed the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Panagopoulos was given in marriage by her brother, John Axelrod. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. John Jay Hahn, as matron of honor. Jack Grubman was best man.

The couple is residing in Allston. They will take a wedding trip to Greece in May.

In Mozart Festival

In anticipation of Mozart Month, Soprano Anne Carter of Andover has been preparing for many weeks to perform in Boston's upcoming Mozart Festival, a gala celebration spanning three Sundays in March.

A highlight of the 1976 concert season, the Mozart Festival features a colorful selection of choral, orchestral and chamber music by one of the world's best loved composers. Guest soloists include many of the area's leading artists. Sponsored by the Masterworks Chorale, the Festival is presented in collaboration with the Master Singers, and is directed by Allen Lannom, Associate Professor of Music at Boston University and President of the Eastern Division of the American Choral Directors Association.

The Mozart Festival opens in Sanders Theatre on March 14 at 8 p.m. with the Requiem Mass in D Minor and the Missa Brevis in B Flat Major. Guest artists are: Deborah Beardsley, Soprano; D'Anna Fortunato, Contralto; Karl Dan Sorensen, Tenor; and Gregory Reinhart, Bass.

The three-part celebration continues on March 21 at 8 p.m. at the Church of the Covenant with a program of solo and ensemble works performed by Victor Rosenbaum, Piano; Nancy Cirillo, Violin; William Wrzesien, Clarinet; and Diana Hoagland, Soprano.

The Mozart Festival culminates on March 28 at 8 p.m. in Sanders Theatre with the Vesperae Solennes de Confessore and the Grand Mass in C Minor. Feature artists are: Luellen Roberts, Soprano; Diana Roberts, Mezzo Soprano; Rufus Hallmark, Tenor; and Gregory Reinhart, Bass.

Peabody was originally a part of Salem, then part of Danvers, then South Danvers, and finally, Peabody, in honor of its famous citizen, George Peabody. He was America's first great philanthropist, founder of the Banking House of Morgan, and world famous financier.

Eileen Ford To Open Lecture Series

The annual "Moments of Diversion" lecture series, sponsored by the Ladies of Merrimack College, opens Feb. 25 with even bigger names and wider interest.

Former cover girl Eileen Ford will be the series opener at 11 a.m. on the 25th, followed by Joyce Gregorai in "Orientals and You", March 24 at 11 a.m., and controversial William F. Buckley, Jr., in an evening program April 7.

Bouillon and coffee will be served in McQuade Library prior to the morning lectures with luncheon following at the Lanam Club.

The Buckley lecture, at 8 p.m. in the Collegiate Chapel, will be followed by a public reception. While all three programs will be packaged as a series, the Buckley talk may also be subscribed to separately.

Reservations for tickets will be accepted through Feb. 16 by Mrs. Kenneth Osborn, Hillside Road, North Andover. She and Mrs. John J. Burke are co-chairmen of the series.

Eileen Ford lived a female version of the Horatio Alger legend, moving from a psychology major at Barnard to top cover girl to beauty expert, business leader and author.

The mother of four children, Ms. Ford keys her presentation, "The More Beautiful You", to girls from 8 to 80, touching on every aspect that makes a woman a beautiful human being.

"Orientals and You" will feature a sampling of antique Caucasian, Persian and Oriental rug craft and the history of their weaving in nomadic encampments in the Middle East.

The Buckley appearance is a feather in the cap of Ladies of Merrimack. Buckley received 55 requests to speak at colleges across the country this season. Merrimack College is one of the four he accepted.

Mrs. S. Arthur McGovern, president, is supervising lecture preparations with the co-chairmen. Assisting are: Mrs. David Morton, hostesses; Mrs. Vincent P. Morton Jr., Buckley tickets; Mrs. Alexander Brox, ushers; Mrs. Richard H. Harrington, Mrs. John T. Batal Jr., luncheons; Mrs. John E. Fenton Jr., decorations; Mrs. William J. Callahan, refreshments; Mrs. Richard H. Harrington, evening lecture co-chairman; Rev. Thomas C. More Iranian Oil?

by Jack Anderson with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — The Shah of Iran is putting the squeeze on the United States. His oil sales have dropped more than 1.5 million barrels a day. This is costing him around $4 billion a year in revenues that he had anticipated but isn't getting.

So the Shah is upset. He has brought quiet diplomatic pressure on the State Department to compel U.S. oil companies to market more Iranian oil. Otherwise, he has threatened to cut back his purchases of U.S. military equipment and nuclear reactors.

It is doubtful that the State Department can force the oil companies to produce more Iranian oil that they cannot sell. The sales have fallen off because of conservation measures and mild weather.

However, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has always tried to appease the Shah. Kissinger wants to encourage American companies, therefore, to market more Iranian oil.

But his colleague in the cabinet, Secretary of the Treasury William Simon, would rather encourage American companies to reduce their Iranian production. This would give the United States more bargaining power, he has argued privately, to force the Shah to reduce oil prices.

Imported Labor: Thousands of faceless men and women and their anonymous children constantly move with the harvests, stopping only long enough to pick a crop and to earn enough to subsist until the next stop. They are the migrant farm laborers, who help make America the best-fed nation in history. Yet they themselves are often undernourished.

At least 4,000 of these pickers, according to a Florida manpower survey, were eager to work in the fruit orchards of the East Coast last fall. They desperately needed the money.

But Virginia apple growers somehow persuaded the Labor Department to let them bring foreign fruit pickers into their orchards. The Virginia growers imported 978 Jamaican workers to pick their apple crop. This may have saved them a little money, but it deprived hungry American migrant workers of jobs.

Why would the Labor Department discriminate against American workers? We can only point out an interesting coincidence. One of Virginia's largest apple growers happens to be the powerful Senator Harry Byrd. We have determined that the H.F. Byrd orchards hired 180 Jamaicans to pick their 1975 crop.

A spokesman told us that the Senator's brothers make all the business decisions. But whatever the circumstances, the Labor Department chose to be kind to the Senator rather than to the jobless migrant workers.

Sky Spies: Secret intelligence reports claim that the Soviets are using Cuban airstrips to spy on U.S. naval movements. The latest report states that two huge Soviet turboprops landed in Havana on January 23. Along the way, the planes conducted surveillance of our East Coast.

This was the 22nd time since April, 1970, that Soviet military planes have flown to Cuba. Each time, they have engaged in aerial spying. They photograph U.S. Navy ships in ports in Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. From Cuba, the Soviet planes also fly reconnaissance missions into the south Atlantic.

Invariably, the Soviet planes are picked up on U.S. radar. U.S. interceptors rush up to meet them and often fly alongside them, snapping pictures. Sometimes, the pilots exchange signals.

These Soviet flights, of course, demonstrate that Cuba can be used as a military base. There is no evidence, however, that the Soviets have constructed permanent military facilities in Cuba.

Poor Little Rich Lady: Imelda Marcos, First Lady of the Philippines, was named by Cosmopolitan magazine last December as one of the ten richest women in the world. This is quite an achievement for a working girl who was a bank receptionist only a few years ago. Then she married Ferdinand Marcos, and he became President of the Philippines.

Their sudden rise to riches, however, is not a story they want to advertise in the Philippines. They didn't want to censor Cosmopolitan magazine. That would only have attracted attention to the story and would have led to bad publicity.

So the Marcoses quietly arranged with their rich friends to buy up all the copies of Cosmopolitan as fast as they hit the Philippines newsstands. Thus, the magazine disappeared from the newsstands overnight -- before they could reach the people in the streets.

Crime War Cutback: In the early 1960s, the late Attorney General Robert Kennedy turned the Justice Department's big guns against organized crime. But lately, the investigation of organized crime has been lagging.

The number of days spent in the field by organized crime investigators, according to our sources, has been cut in half. And the number of court briefs filed by government lawyers in organized crime cases has been cut considerably.

Now, we have learned, the Justice Department is secretly preparing to eliminate the special strike forces which were established to fight organized crime. Their work will be turned over to the local U.S. Attorneys. Many Justice Department officials disagree with the proposed policy. They fear it will further weaken the government's battle against the crime syndicate.

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

In my opinion, it is well overdue that a statement be made in behalf of some of the educators in our town. I have been exceptionally impressed with the dignity with which many teachers in my children's school have conducted themselves. Not only are they persons operating in earnest dedication to the goal of intellectual enlightenment and enrichment but they seem to be striving to awaken curiosity and creativity in our young. Moreover, in the instance of my children and their personal needs, these teachers and their principal have moved in a responsive, humanistic, empathetic, supportive, even loving way.

I take my hat off to them, fine china persons in a paper plate world. (They are, in particular, Jack Coyle, Ms. Dunn, Bell, Angeloni, Howell, and Mr. Spencer at the Bancroft School.)

Roberta G. Miller

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

I would like to take this opportunity on behalf of the officers and men of the Greater Lawrence Marine Corps Reserve, to thank you for your support of our 1975 "Toys for Tots" Campaign.

Your contribution to the "Toys for Tots" Campaign has been a great help to the needy children of this area. The joy of giving, especially at Christmas time, can be a very rewarding experience for all concerned.

I am sure that your contribution towards the "Toys for Tots" Program has made many needy and deserving children happy this Christmas Season.

Again, on behalf of the officers and men of the Greater Lawrence Marine Corps Reserve, I wish to express our heartfelt appreciation for your support toward the 1975 "Toys for Tots" Campaign.

The mini-bus that has been providing transportation every Tuesday and Thursday for doctors' appointments, etc., is temporarily out of service and is in the garage for repairs. As soon as it is returned to service, notice will appear in these columns.

The regular monthly meeting of all those who use The Haven is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 19 at 3 p.m. There will be two movies - one on the Grand Canyon and the other on Seal Island - and the usual refreshments. The Dynamic Retirement course session normally held Thursday afternoons will not be held that day.

Time to sign up for another "day trip" to New England

Center, Durham, N.H., to be held MARCH 19. Cost of the trip includes a delicious buffet luncheon and totals $6.35. Buses will leave The Haven at 10:30 a.m. and return mid-afternoon. Stop by The Haven and reserve your place today.

A change of date is announced on the London trip. Departure is now scheduled for April 30. Call The Haven for details.

There are still two days left to stop by the Andover Bank to see the senior citizens' Craft and Hobby Show. You do not want to miss this exciting display of our talented citizens.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - February, 1901

The Eastern Convocation of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts held its 282nd meeting at Christ Church on Wednesday morning and afternoon. Rev. Philo Sprague and Rev. Edward Abbott were in charge.

Washington's Birthday will be observed locally by the closing of schools, post office and bands.

The Punchard High Girls' Basketball team defeated a team from Reading 12 to 10 in a game held at the Guild House.

From all appearances there has been more made of Valentine's Day this year than in any previous year of recent memory.

Commencing last Monday, the engine at the pumping house at Haggetts Pond will be run every day. This is necessary owing to the increased consumption of water.

A hockey team has been formed in town with Alexander Ritchie as captain. He plays points in a remarkably clever manner. Games will be played with Lawrence and Boston teams.

According to the state road commissioners, 16,186 feet of state road have been built in Andover at a cost of $31,817.66 through Dec. 31, 1900.

50 Years Ago - February, 1926

A pair of horses has been secured by the fire department for use at the Central station for the next few days. The horses were procured as a precautionary measure, while many of the roads are impassable due to the effects of the recent blizzard.

Patrick J. Barrett was elected president of St. Augustine's Holy Name Society at its meeting on Sunday. Other officers include Timothy J. Mahoney, vice president; Patrick McDonald, secretary; Charles Hurley, treasurer and Joseph McCarthy, director of music.

A robin was seen by Mrs. Abbot Erving of Salem St. on Thursday morning. Others in the area have also spotted the bird earlier this week.

Hundreds attend special funeral service for William M. Wood in chapel at West Parish cemetery. A special train from Boston brought several mourners to the Shawsheen station from where they went to the chapel. Diplomacy A Difficult Art At The Bargaining Table

Andover teachers, by the time this appears, will have voted either to remain at their jobs or have gone on strike, the latter being most unfortunate.

Whatever has happened in the 24 hours since this was written will be the culmination of a most difficult time in the history of the Andover school system.

Who is at fault for the impasse which led up to the strike situation is difficult, at best, to determine, except to conclude that both the school committee, as management, and the teachers, as labor, were overly determined to stand their ground.

What can be determined is that there is every evidence that public employees will find it difficult to gain public sympathy through such actions as work stoppage, strikes, etc.

Diplomacy is a difficult art to bring to the bargaining table in any situation, but, unlike negotiations in private industry, when municipal employees undertake their bargaining procedures, the management is a large mass of people, rather than a corporate entity.

In the matter of the work stoppage, or slowdown, by the teachers last week, the educators were attempting to draw public attention to their plight, as they saw it.

This, of course, was as wrong as the school committee or the general public figuratively dangling a child before town meeting asking that the budget be approved "because you want the best for your child", as has happened.

To use the subjects of the public education system as pawns in any matter concerning the schools, budgets, or teachers' salaries is blatant abuse of public confidence and trust.

The most difficult thing for public employees to overcome is the image projected by the "hazards" of the particular trade.

For instance, teachers work 180 days.

We are aware that the contract stipulates a 180-day year, but we also are aware of the dedicated teachers in Andover and elsewhere who spend considerably more time than a normal eight-hour day in classroom preparation, after school meetings, conferences, continuing education, working with pupils, etc.

The latter is not seen by the general public -- only the 180 days stand out, but that is the public image they have to stand on.

The firemen sleep at night.

Would you trade places at the height of a general alarm or roll out to an ambulance call at a tragic accident at all hours of the night?

The police are supplied uniforms, work extra shifts. A still hazardous occupation.

Department of Public Works employees have security through civil service.

Their tenure was not in question when at Christmas time this past year, they cleared the season's most difficult storm despite no contract agreement with the town after several months of bargaining.

Point is that while the image is projected due to the job description, our public servants do perform well, and often in an unheralded manner.

The current problems in the school department negotiation process may or may not have been averted by the full membership of the school committee coming to grips with the situation earlier.

According to the teachers, the full membership has been present at only two sessions.

When subcommittees reach an impasse, we would think it proper for the full membership to become concerned.

This matter, however, is past.

By this time, a decision will have been reached as to whether the lengthy and unfortunate negotiation process has reached a successful conclusion and the teachers are on the job, or they have gone the unpleasant route of a strike.

Hopefully the decision will have been the former, and Andover's teachers can return to their image role of not 180-day public servants but educators dedicated to providing proper and valued assistance to our youth.

They're Stitching Our History

By Linda S. Corbett

A town's history can be passed on in many ways, and a group of crafty local women are seeing to it that Andover's will be preserved for generations to come in a creative and personal fashion -- a Bicentennial Quilt.

For the past several months, some two dozen gals have been appliqueing, quilting and embroidering 28 squares of Andover's past and present. Their work covers the gamut from the song "America", written on Main Street by a student at the Andover Theological Seminary, to the recent merger of Phillips and Abbot Academies and canoeing on the Shawsheen River.

The squares are now finished and the design committee is planning how to assemble them into the quilt. Then the whole group will get together again, in time-tested "bee" fashion, to stitch the squares into one.

They plan to have it all together by April 1, in time to be displayed in a show in Chelmsford. It will be on show at various town events in May, and eventually will be on permanent display as part of the town's archives.

The project evolved from a quilting group at the "Y" last winter. When the class was over, four members -- Jane Griswold, Maria Moskos, Claire L'Italien and Margo Bixby -- decided to continue on their own, and called Norma Gammon, chairman of the Andover Bicentennial Committee, to see if anyone was doing a Bicentennial Quilt.

Their project then became an official part of the town's celebration, with the sanction and financial support of the Bicentennial Committee -- and a quilted square from Norma Gammon to boot.

They first met at Memorial Hall Library, inviting anyone who was interested, with George Glennie of the Historical Society showing slides to elicit ideas for the quilt. A list of possible subjects was drawn up, and the quilters went to work.

Many of them had never worked in this medium before, but they learned as they went, meeting every Friday morning at Gayle Caruso's.

Basic rules were minimal. The squares were to be 12 inches by 12 inches, or rectangular with the same number of total inches around. Their backgrounds were to be in the basic colors of the Town Seal -- blue, green and white -- and all of the materials were provided by town Bicentennial funds.

Jennifer Rogers' embroidered Town Seal will be the center square when the Bicentennial Quilt is pieced together.

Gayle Caruso, top, was hostess for the Friday morning "bee". Norma Gammon joins her here in a planning session.

However, when the quilt is finally put together, the squares will surround the Town Seal, expertly embroidered by Jennifer Rogers in a combination of split, chain and satin stitches. Mrs. Rogers also did a square of the South Church steeple. While some people have teased that it never happens in real life, the two clocks in her square tell the same time.

One square certain to get a chuckle from today's Andover residents shows Town Meeting, complete to Moderator William Dalton's black curls and a woman knitting in the front row. The background of Sue Williams' creation is a sea of multi-materialized faces.

Very life-like is the sheep's head in Marcia Beardsley's seal of the American Woolen Co. The sheep is done in a hairy, turkey stitch.

Margo Bixby recorded the Abbot-PA merger with two figures, one pink and one blue, scaling the familiar bell tower together.

Marcia Carter's square of "America" includes the notes and words to the first bar of the song, while Claire L'Italien designed a colonial woman holding a three-dimensional baby. Marilyn Hoyt's embroidery captured the intricate scrollwork above the Abbot Academy gates, and the ivy on the building behind.

The other subjects, and their creators, include St. Augustine's School, Claire L'Italien; Bancroft School, Gail Morton; the Eagle Tribune, Gayle Caruso; a Clown Town clown, Marty Travis; the duck pond, Claudia Trede; North Parish church, Martha Beardsley; a watermelon symbolizing the Andover Community Gardeners, Marcia Moskos; the Andover Mill, Claudia Trede; the Andover Historical Society, Gail Seeley; Ballardvale, Jane Hayman; the Abbot House, Laura Roy; Memorial Hall Library, Betty Krull; Clan McPherson, Eunice Campbell; canoeing on the Shawsheen River, Kitty Tremblay; and the Wood Estate, Norma Gammon.

Photographs by Rosamund Wolff Purcell and Gail Skoff are on view at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Phillips Academy, Andover, through Feb. 29.

Rosamund Purcell, a self-taught photographer who lives in Medford, has been widely exhibited throughout the United States and is the author of A Matter Of Time, a collection of her photographs published by David R. Godine of Boston. Ms. Purcell works entirely with Polaroid materials, largely with Type 105 Positive/Negative film;

she writes about her work that "Often I depend on the appearance of objects and people rather than on internal inspiration to stir me into action. I use whatever I can of shapes, light, and time as elements in composition. And I pay strict attention to composition on the assumption that if the appearance is satisfying to the viewer, emotional involvement might then become possible." A selection of Rosamund Purcell's photographs was recently published in Modern Photography.

Gail Skoff was born in California and is currently residing and working in Berkeley. She received her training at the Boston Museum School and the San Francisco Art Institute, and her work has been exhibited at many galleries on the West Coast as well as in the midwest and in Europe. She works with black and white materials which she then hand-tints; examples of her photographs recently appeared in The Photographers' Choice, an anthology published by Addison House and edited by Kelly Wise. Ms. Skoff was recently awarded a grant this year from the National Endowment for the Arts to continue her experimentation with the possibilities of hand-colored photographs.

The Addison Gallery of American Art, on the campus of Phillips Academy, is open free to the public Mondays 1-5 p.m.; Tuesday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sundays from 2:30-5 p.m.

The first telephone patent in the United States (No. 174,465) was issued to Alexander Graham Bell on March 7, 1876.

Extending Best Wishes

Kristen Cove, a second grade student at the Sanborn School, was honored at an all girls' luncheon Tuesday. Kristen and her family will leave for France where she will be attending the American School for the next two years. The group presented Kristen with an autograph book to remember them by.

Harris Caucus

Supporters of Fred Harris for President who live in the Fifth Congressional District are invited to attend a caucus Sunday, Feb. 15, for the purpose of selecting the persons to serve as Harris delegates and alternates to the Democratic National Convention. The caucus will be held at Weed Hall, Lowell University, South Campus (the Old Lowell State), at 2 p.m. There is no admission and the public is invited.

James Pitts of Groton, Harris coordinator for the Fifth Congressional District, urges all Harris supporters to attend this caucus as it is one of the most important functions of the Harris campaign.

Ed Romano of Lawrence and Jackie Edwards of Concord will co-chair the caucus.

For further information regarding this caucus, call Doris-Jean Selfridge, Walt McKertich in Andover, the Lawrence Harris headquarters (682-5325) or the Boston Harris headquarters (262-9650).

'Primary' Election At Aquarium Next Week

Children on February school vacation will have a chance to go vote for their favorite presidential candidate at the New England Aquarium in the nation's first primary election of 1976.

All of the aquatic candidates are campaigning on their own conservation platforms, but personality and style are, as always, contributing factors.

In an unofficial poll of the candidates taken recently at the Aquarium, "Scoop" Salmon was expected to make a strong showing in the primary, but smiling Jimmy Dolphin continues to dazzle audiences with his smooth performances.

Internationally known Jerry Seal is setting a fast campaign pace while continuing his daily laps in the Aquarium's outdoor seal pool.

His closest contender, sleek Ronald Codfish knows, however, the issues that appeal to the frugal Yankees.

Always tuxedoed Hubert Penguin is as yet unannounced but looks like a candidate and is expected to have a strong write-in vote at the Aquarium.

Birch Bass is campaigning on a platform of clean estuaries, while Lloyd Herring is focusing his attention toward an intelligent approach to off-shore drilling for oil.

George Catfish indicates that he will sponsor farming of fish in fresh water, but Sargent Sturgeon says, "I will fight for stricter control of off-shore fishing boundaries."

Morris Tarpon endorses fish and game laws that provide sound environmental management and recreational interests.

Fred Pollack vows to fight for legislation that will protect our neighborhood from commercial fishing boats during the breeding season. Milton Grouper is running on the issue of preventing dumping of dangerous waste materials in the ocean, and

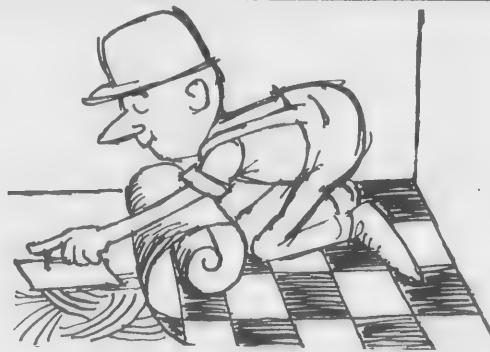

The Aquarium's polls will open at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Feb. 14, and close at 6 p.m. Feb. 22. There are no voting age requirements, but only one ballot may be cast. The results will be announced.

Walter L. Dutton

Named Head Of Department

A. W. Chesterton Company has announced the appointment of Walter L. Dutton as the new head of engineering and applications for its Mechanical Seal Department.

The appointment is part of Chesterton's continuing program of expansion and realignment to accommodate the company's rapidly growing business operations in the 93 countries it serves with its lines of mechanical seals and packing.

Dutton, who lives at 26 Sheridan Road, Andover, was previously associated for 22 years with Sealol, Inc., Warwick, R.I., where he held a number of positions, including, most recently, assistant to the president.

He has a wife and two children. A. W. Chesterton Company, the oldest manufacturer of mechanical packing in North America, has its world headquarters in Stoneham, Mass.; manufacturing facilities in Woburn and Lawrence, Mass., and Mexico, Canada and Ireland; and sales offices in the Netherlands and British West Indies. The 92-year-old company is associated with more than 500 industrial distributors all over the world.

Junior High Art Work On Exhibit

Art work of 20 East Junior High School students has been submitted to the annual Scholastic Art Awards contest by art teachers Miss Susan Ooyevaar and Mrs. Patricia Pope.

Richard Periera, Jim Gibson, Beth Alexander, Jon Marc Brideau, Lisa Chesik, Chris Jones, Frank Igoe, Len Peltier and Janice Judkins did works submitted in the watercolor category.

Andy Weil, Megan Owen, Chris Heiter and Catherine Epstein did graphic designs.

David Weil, Clair Gilliat, Bob Gardner did textile designs.

Colleen Kehoe and Jeff Hudgins, did ink drawings.

Susan Stephens' pencil drawing and Charlotte White's oil crayon work were entered.

According to Managing Director Peter Sherman, the Bicentennial Show is already assured of being the largest in its 26 year history. "We've been sold out for close to three weeks and have a waiting list of some 70 different companies wanting space to exhibit. Right now we're thinking of creating another workable area in the Hynes to accommodate some of these requests," stated Sherman.

One of the major features at this year's Home Show will be "The Duchess", a split level home from Capital Housing Incorporated of Pennsylvania. The Duchess, built and landscaped at the Show, will be completely furnished.

Home furnishings is an area which has been greatly expanded for the Bicentennial event.

Fashion shoppers and bargain hunters will have the opportunity to sit in on the Bettye Downes Fashion Show with three presentations daily throughout the Show.

Appeal For Aid To Quake Victims

Andover clergymen and the local chapter of the Andover Red Cross have issued an appeal for assistance to victims of the tragic earthquake in Guatemala. The Andover Ministerial Association this week issued an appeal to people of all faiths to assist victims of tragedy by sending contributions care of the following religious relief agencies: American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee; Church World Service; Lutheran World Relief; Catholic Relief Services.

Schena In New Location

The newest auto dealership in the Merrimack Valley area is on One River Street, Haverhill - Ken Schena Renault Sales, Inc.

Ken Schena's Auto Sales originated in 1970 on Essex Street in Haverhill and soon located to 1 River Street in 1972. At that time Ken and Lou Fossarelli, general manager, specialized in used classic autos.

As of Nov. 1975, Ken Schena Auto Sales became Ken Schena Renault Sales, Inc. Several new models are planned for introduction over the next few years. The Renault 5, a 40 m.p.g. mini car with performance capabilities up to 90 mph is only the first of these to be introduced.

Schena Auto will continue to maintain their Specialty Used Car Section.

ning and evaluation for Urban Associates, a Connecticut firm, and in a similar capacity for New Opportunities for Waterbury in Waterbury, Conn. He is currently employed as a Community Planning and Development Representative by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development. Mr. Kolaski has extensive experience in the planning, implementation and evaluation of programs in health, housing, education, job training and economic development.

The major campaign issues in Mr. Kolaski's opinion include:

Teaching Methods Curriculum: Andover has a substantial investment in its current educational system. The proposed addition of a Traditional alternative will offer parents a wide choice of educational approaches. However, in order for parents and teachers to make a reasonable choice for a particular child, much more needs to be known about the successes and failures of each method. I propose that the School Committee undertake a detailed analysis of all programs during 1976-1977. The purpose would be twofold. First, it will offer parents a factual basis on which to request assignments. Second, it will enable the School Department to refine each method so that improvements may be made and implemented during that year. For the evaluation to be conducted properly, standards must be established which test major indicators of student achievement, including, but not limited to, skill level attainment, long term retention and the ability to deal with abstract concepts. Since the School Committee is committed to the establishment of the Traditional Alternative the time is right for such an evaluation. We can then agree in advance on the basis for a valid comparison with our existing methods. In this way, we will be in a position to make informed decisions.

Contributions may be sent directly or to the agency of choice through St. Augustine's Rectory, 43 Essex St., Andover.

Both the Ministerial Association and the Red Cross chapter cite the death toll following the Feb. 10 quake as well as the losses suffered by the estimated 30,000 injured and 200,000 homeless.

Monetary contributions may also be left at the local chapter office, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover.

School Expenditures: The School Committee must cooperate with other town officials to hold our tax rate to a minimum.

However, educational values must be maintained. This may be achieved by introducing an evaluative mechanism which will allow school administrators and the School Committee to allocate funds on the basis of proven results of particular programs. Andover can no longer afford expenditures based on emotional or ideological prejudices.

Further, the School Committee must beware of short term savings efforts which will cost the taxpayers more in the long run. I believe that the portable classroom proposal is an example of this shortsighted thinking.

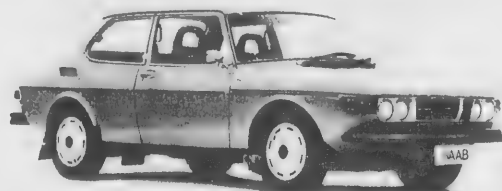

School Facility Planning: The overcrowding problem in the upper grades is indisputable evidence of the weakness of recent planning decisions. I am reluctant to take present estimates at face value. The current recession and national decline in housing starts must be viewed as temporary in nature. There are many indications that Andover may expect continued growth in the future. Before a decision is made with regard to our overcrowding problem the School Committee should carefully consider the educational and economic advantages of every alternative, including the Sacred Heart School.

Current Atmosphere of Controversy: Our school system has become a battleground for competing educational philosophies. Recent strife between the School Committee and the teachers regarding contract negotiations has exacerbated an already volatile situation. It will be a primary task of the new School Committee to reestablish a positive environment for reasonable, civil discussion of educational issues.

We have allowed a spirit of confrontation, hostility and abrasiveness to dominate educational debate. I suspect that it is this, as much as the teacher salary issue, which has brought us to our present predicament. The School Committee must take the lead in changing this. No educational system can succeed if it cannot count on a pool of dedicated and skilled teachers, parents willing to involve themselves actively in their children's learning process, and students motivated and inspired to learn. These have been the traditional strengths of our school system, and these are the resources which we must preserve for the future.

Teachers

If there were a strike, he added, the matter would be in the hands of the labor board and the courts.

The committee had already petitioned the State Labor Relations Board on Tuesday to enter the case, and a hearing was set for some time this morning.

The teachers had added yet another dimension to the dispute last week when they began a new work stoppage, teaching only to review, and not any new materials.

Griggs said that the labor board would determine if the teachers had broken the law. If they have, he said, they should be called to task for it.

The doors to both sides remained officially open before yesterday afternoon's strike meeting, but both sides stuck to their guns -- the school committee to its Monday offer of a 6.25 percent hike this year and a 7.5 percent next year, and the teachers to the factfinder's recommendation for 7.5 percent both years.

AEA President Pat Leahy would make no predictions about the outcome of the meeting.

"I think it will be very, very heavy," she said.

Ms. Leahy had led a parade of speakers before the school committee Tuesday night, with an open letter from the teachers.

For the past 8 months, she said, the committee's dealings with the teachers had indicated that "in your estimation we have neither worthiness nor value."

She said the committee had been aware all along of the "deterioration in morale and loyalty" they had caused, but that they had evidently "based little importance on these."

"You refuse to realize," she said, "that your actions will affect the tenor of your staff for a very long time."

"By denial of a reasonable salary increase," she went on, "you are saying that being at the bottom of the salary scale in Merrimack Valley is good enough for your teachers and for the town. Yet, on the other hand, you expound the virtues of our many special programs and claim that your school system is far superior."

"Low salaries and a fine system simply do not occur together."

She said pats on the back are no longer sufficient compensation for the hours beyond the working day needed to implement programs.

"In short, she said, "the system cannot survive without those teachers who are willing to go that extra mile. We suggest to you that your actions have ensured that those numbers have been greatly diminished."

She said the school committee's "veracity" was also in question, since they had been insisting all along that there was no more money to be squeezed from anything.

"Yet suddenly in the 11th hour," she said, "you miraculously discovered an extra one quarter percent somewhere. Over $12,000 appeared like magic. If that amount was lying around, can it not be assumed that perhaps there is yet more that could be produced to relieve this tragic stalemate?"

After rejecting the factfinder's report, the committee had last week offered the teachers a 6 percent hike this year and 7 percent next year. Sunday night, after gaining a promise from the teachers that they would cease their job stoppage on Monday, they raised their offer to 6.25 percent for this year, 7.5 for next year.

"We are at a critical point in time here this evening," Ms. Leahy concluded. "The past four years have been difficult for the teachers of Andover; the past 18 months have been impossible."

"Perhaps four years ago we should not have convinced ourselves to be 'quiet and professional'. If there is blame to be placed on the Andover teachers it is that they naively believed for four years that 'things would get better next year'."

"We submit to you that there are no more 'next years'."

She was followed to the fore by Gerald Silverman, former assistant principal at the high school, who appeared "as an interested parent, representing no one", to express his concern "for the 5500 youngsters out there."

"I'm most concerned," he said, "that they get the best education possible for what everybody is willing to pay in taxes."

Andover teachers have never lived by the contract, he went on, indicating that they had always given time and effort beyond what the contract requires. Living only to the letter of the contract this year "has hurt my children," he said, adding that his son's school hadn't had an open house this year.

"Evidently," he said, "it was not required by contract."

As for the money, Silverman said he knew where at least $20,000 is -- interest in the bank from raises that should have been paid since last September.

He said there is also money from positions that haven't been filled, and from jobs that have been filled by people at the bottom of the scale, after people at the top of the scale had left.

"The money is there," he went on. "It's not a question of $200,00 or $300,000. What we're talking about is if each side feels it has to win."

He said he had long believed that the most important thing in the system is "not the frills and not the programs, but the teachers. I would hate to see us do anything that would deprive us of any one of these teachers."

"Representing my eight children," was Dr. Robert Moynihan of 15 Geneva Road, who suggested that the school committee "in its zeal and dedication," has lost contact "with the gut feelings in Andover."

He said he felt any further negotiations would be "unproductive and lethal", and urged the groups to compromise on a settlement.

Ernest J. Perry, Jr., 81 Dascomb Road, said he felt that was a coach you have to give and take in many instances... but you also have to take a decision."

He compared the factfinder to an umpire, saying that the two sides had done the best they could in negotiations, but now they should live with the decision that was rendered.

In a "call to reason", Pat Marino suggested they compromise on 6.25 percent this year and 7.75 percent next year.

Somewhere, he said, the school committee has to get into long-range planning, since in another six months, they'll be back negotiating for a contract for the next two years.

Why is it, he asked, that hundreds of thousands of dollars for non-people projects such as the library parking lot can be passed in one evening by town meeting, yet they sit and debate $75,000 for the schools "over and over again"?

He figured that the recommended increase would cost each taxpayer an additional $3.75 a year. "I ask you what you can buy for that?" he said.

Mrs. Joan Gilliatt of Tobey Lane said "we are seeing a rise

on petition of JOHN E. MAGEE, JR. and others.

ARTICLE 26. To see if the Town will vote to change from Industrial A to Industrial D a portion of land in West Andover described as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of the centerline of Interstate Route 93 and the centerline of the Merrimack River (Assessors' Map 164), thence running easterly by the centerline of the Merrimack River to the northerly extension of the easterly line of Lot 1 (Assessors' Map 125), thence southerly 3,000 feet more or less along the easterly line of Lot 1 and Lot 1A (Assessors' Map 125) and Lot 3 (Assessors' Map 126) to a point 200 feet northerly of the centerline of River Road, thence westerly on a line 200 feet northerly and parallel to the centerline of River Road 820 feet more or less to the easterly line of Lot 10 (Assessors' Map 143), thence southerly by the easterly line of Lot 10 (Assessors' Map 143) 200 feet to the centerline of River Road, thence westerly along the centerline of River Road and Old River Road to the centerline of Interstate Route 93 (Assessors' Map 165) thence northerly along the centerline of Interstate Route 93 to the point of beginning.
Inserted at the request of the Planning Board.

ARTICLE 27. To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning By-Law, Article VIII by making the following changes in the Industrial D categories:

1. YARDS AND FRONTAGE

Amend Section V "Dimensional Requirements, A, Table of Dimensional Requirements", revising entries in the Industrial ID row, to provide as follows:

Minimum Lot Dimensions

Area, sq. ft.
Frontage, ft. 50

Minimum Yard Depth

Front, ft.	100
Side, ft.	100
Rear, ft.	100

Max. Height

Feet	50
No. of stories	3

Max. coverage, incl.

Accessory buildings	25%
--------------------------	-----

2. YARD CONTROL

Amend Section V "Dimensional Requirements", Paragraph B. "Exceptions and Special Requirements", Section 8. "Industrial Districts", by inserting a new subsection "c" to read as follows:

c. In all industrial districts, yard depth requirements will be measured from the street line of a public way or internal access road, whichever is applicable.

"d. In Industrial District D, required yard areas shall be developed and maintained only for lawns, landscaping, walks, driveways, and parking areas; provided, however, that no parking area shall be located within fifty feet of any street line unless a special permit to reduce this requirement is granted by the Zoning Board of Appeals upon its determination that circumstances of the site and its design provide control of visual intrusion and traffic comparable to the usual application of this requirement."

3. OFF-STREET PARKING

Amend Section VI "Other Requirements" Paragraph A "Parking" by deleting Section 4 Industrial Districts, and replacing it with the following:

"4. Industrial Districts

a. Intent and Application

Adequate off-street parking must be provided on the premises to service all parking demand created by new construction, whether through new structures or through additions to existing ones, or by change of use creating higher parking demands.

Buildings, structures and land uses in existence on the effective date of these provisions are not subject to these parking requirements and may be rebuilt, altered or repaired, but not enlarged or changed in use, without becoming subject to them.

In applying for building or occupancy permits, the applicant must demonstrate that the minimum parking requirements set forth below will be met for the new demand without counting existing parking.

These requirements may be reduced on special permit for an exception from the Board of Appeals upon their determination that special circumstances render a lesser provision adequate for all parking needs.

"b. Schedule of Requirements

Use

(Sec. IVB)

Description	Requirement
9, 13, 17. Recreation, school, restaurant	One space per four persons max. occupancy, based on Table 6-1, Mass. State Building Code
20. Office	One space per 300 sq. ft. usable floor area
21. Motel, hotel	One space per guest unit plus one space per eight guest units
28, 29. Lab, manufacturing	0.75 space per employee on largest shift, but capable of expansion to not less than one space per 300 sq. ft. usable floor area
31, 32, 33, 34A, 34B. Misc. uses	Determined by Building Inspector on advice of Planning Board.

"XC. Parking Lot Design

Not more than one driveway shall be permitted in any 150 feet of frontage.

In Industrial D Districts, the following shall apply unless the Building Inspector, upon advice of the Planning Board, determines that alternative provisions provide comparable control of traffic flow, microclimate, and visual intrusion. Each parking area shall contain no more than 240 spaces, with no more than 30 spaces in any uninterrupted row. Each parking area shall be enclosed (except for access points) by a landscaped buffer not less than twelve feet wide and shall have additional landscaping equivalent in area to one parking space for each thirty spaces provided.

d. Loading

Adequate off-street loading facilities and space must be provided inside or rear areas, only to service all needs created by new construction whether through new structures or additions to old ones, and by change of use of existing structures. Facilities shall be so sized and arranged that no trucks need back onto or off of a public way or internal access road, or be parked on a public way or internal access road while loading, unloading, or waiting to do so.

4. DESIGN CONTROLS

Amend Section VI "Other Requirements" by adding Paragraph H, to read as follows:

"H. Industrial D

All development in an Industrial D District shall be subject to the following, unless a special permit for an exception to these requirements is granted by the Zoning Board of Appeals upon its determination that alternative provisions provide comparable protection for adjoining parcels and ways:

1. All utility service lines shall be placed underground. All transformers, meters, or similar utility apparatus shall be placed on or below the surface of the land and be screened from view.

2. All developed land area not covered by buildings, parking areas, driveways and other site improvements shall be landscaped and all parking areas shall be screened by landscaping (see Sections VI.C.2 and VI.A.4 (c)). All undeveloped portions of land may remain in the natural state providing such areas do not create a hazard or nuisance.

3. Walkways and parking areas shall be adequately lighted. No outdoor lighting shall be mounted higher than twenty-five feet above finished grade, and lighting sources shall be shielded to prevent excessive glare on adjoining property.

4. All rooftop mechanical equipment shall be grouped and screened.

5. Site Plan Review

a. Prior to application for building permits on projects involving 10 or more parking spaces, three prints of the plot plan shall be submitted to the Planning Board for advisory review. Prints of the plot plan shall be referred by the Planning Board to the Conservation Commission, and the Department of Public Works for their review and written advisory reports, Planning Board comments, if any, shall be returned to the applicant within 30 days of submission.

"b. Plans subject to this section shall show dimensions of the lot, size and location of existing and proposed structures, adjacent streets and ways, existing and proposed topography, any wetlands, storm drainage, underground utilities, drives, walks, loading and parking, retained v. created landscaping, lighting, and sign locations.

"c. Plans subject to this Section shall be designed so as to assure safety of internal circulation and egress, provide adequate access to each structure for fire and service equipment, and provide adequate utility service and drainage, consistent with the functional intent of Section IV, Design Standards, of the current Subdivision Regulations of the Andover Planning Board."

5. SIGNS

Amend Section VI "Other Requirements", Paragraph B. "Signs", subparagraph d. "Industrial Districts", by deleting sub-subparagraph (2) in its entirety, replacing it with the following:

(2) Signs attached flat against the wall of a building, advertising the name of the firm or goods or services available or produced on the premises; provided that the total area of all such signs does not exceed ten (10) percent of the area of the side of the building to which they are attached, or 100 square feet, whichever is less.

and

by deleting the last sentence in sub-subparagraph (3) and replacing it with the following:

Such sign shall not be located closer than ten (10) feet to any property line or the line of any way and no part of any such sign shall be more than six (6) feet above ground level.

ARTICLE 28. To see what amount the Town will vote to raise by taxation, by transfer from available funds, or by any combination of the foregoing, and appropriate for the purpose of providing an audit of the Town's municipal accounts for the period of January 1, 1972 through June 30, 1976.

ARTICLE 29. To see if the Town will vote to accept the provisions of Chapter 32B, Section 7A paragraph D, of the Massachusetts General Laws, so as to affirm the following question:

"Shall the town in addition to the payment of 50% of a premium for contributory group life and health insurance for employees in the service of the town and their dependents, pay a subsidiary or additional rate?"

on petition of SHEILA ZEDER and others.

ARTICLE 30. To see if the Town will vote to raise by taxation and appropriate or transfer from available funds a sum not to exceed $5,000 to pay unpaid bills for which obligation was incurred in prior fiscal years.

ARTICLE 31. To see if the Town will vote to accept as a public way, Lakeside Circle as laid out by the Board of Selectmen and as shown on a plan entitled "Subdivision & Acceptance Plan Lakeside" which plan is recorded in the North Essex Registry of Deeds as Plan #3476.

ARTICLE 32. To see if the Town will vote to raise by taxation, by transfer from available funds, or by any combination of the foregoing, and appropriate the sum of $9,000 for the purpose of improving the way known as Lakeside Circle.

Scuba Exhibit At Museum

The U.S.S. New Hampshire, a 193-foot frigate that lies beneath the water off Graves Island, Manchester, Massachusetts, is the focus of a small display on S.C.U.B.A. diving and amateur marine salvaging now at Boston's Museum of Science.

Also including a mannequin fully outfitted in diving gear and a display of items recovered from the ocean floor, the exhibit explains the purpose and procedures of diving for artifacts found in shipwrecks off the New England coast. Such articles as forks, spoons, bullets, copper spikes, and copper from hulls are valuable finds both monetarily and historically. It is these artifacts that attract the amateur underwater explorer.

The U.S.S. New Hampshire, completed in Portsmouth, New Hampshire in 1825, was not launched until 1864 after an unexplained delay of 39 years. During the Civil War, she served as a blockade and supply ship. Afterwards, she was used as a supply, receiving, and training ship in Virginia, South Carolina, Rhode Island, and New York until 1913, when she caught fire at her berth in the Hudson River.

Through the quick action of her crew, the ship was saved, only to catch fire again and sink in 1921. She was sold for salvage and raised the next year, but she caught fire a third time on her way to Eastport, Maine, and sank off the Massachusetts coast. There she remains today, the most popular wreck in New England waters.

Sponsored by the Underwater Historical Society, the exhibit was designed by Richard Sheffield of Rockland, Mass. Museum Exhibits Designer. It is located on the third floor of the Museum's central building.

2. YARD CONTROL

Amend Section V "Dimensional Requirements", Paragraph B. "Exceptions and Special Requirements", Section 8. "Industrial Districts", by inserting a new subsection "c" to read as follows:

c. In all industrial districts, yard depth requirements will be measured from the street line of a public way or internal access road, whichever is applicable.

d. In Industrial District D, required yard areas shall be developed and maintained only for lawns, landscaping, walks, driveways, and parking areas; provided, however, that no parking area shall be located within fifty feet of any street line unless a special permit to reduce this requirement is granted by the Board of Appeals upon its determination that circumstances of the site and its design provide control of visual intrusion and traffic comparable to the usual application of this requirement.

3. OFF-STREET PARKING

Amend Section VI "Other Requirements" Paragraph A "Parking" by deleting Section 4 Industrial Districts, and replacing it with the following:

4. Industrial Districts

a. Intent and Application

Adequate off-street parking must be provided on the premises to service all parking demand created by new construction, whether through new structures or through additions to existing ones, or by change of use creating higher parking demand.

Buildings, structures and land uses in existence on the effective date of these provisions are not subject to these parking requirements and may be rebuilt, altered or repaired, but not enlarged or changed in use, without becoming subject to them.

In applying for building or occupancy permits, the applicant must demonstrate that the minimum parking requirements set forth below will be met for the new demand without counting existing parking.

These requirements may be reduced on special permit for an exception from the Board of Appeals upon its determination that special circumstances render a lesser provision adequate for all parking needs.

"b. Schedule of Requirements

Use # (Sec. IVB)	Description	Requirement
9, 13, 17,	Recreation, school, restaurant	One space per four persons max. occupancy, based on Table 6-1, Mass. State Building Code
20.	Office	One space per 300 sq. ft. usable floor area
21.	Motel, hotel	One space per guest unit plus one space per eight guest units
28, 29.	Lab, manufacturing	0.75 space per employee on largest shift, but capable of expansion to not less than one space per 300 sq. ft. usable floor area
31, 32, 33, 34A, 34B.	Misc. uses	Determined by Building Inspector on advice of Planning Board.

"c. Parking Lot Design

"Not more than one driveway shall be permitted in any 150 feet of frontage.

"In Industrial D Districts, the following shall apply unless the Building Inspector, upon advice of the Planning Board, determines that alternative provisions provide comparable control of traffic flow, microclimate, and visual intrusion. Each parking area shall contain

Olney Describes New Trend In Bonus Plan

Performance bonuses and non-qualified compensation for top executives were described recently as "the trends" in industry for 1976 by a Boston management consultant.

Speaking in Boston at the 1976 National Conference on Bank Operations and Savings Bank Equipment and Services Show sponsored by the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, Peter B. Olney, Jr., president of Olney Associates, Inc.

and a resident of Andover, declared that "the trend for those executives in a position to affect materially the success and future of an organization is to be rewarded with an extension of the deferred compensation concept - - namely, non-qualified deferred compensation.

"This does not require formal approval by the Internal Revenue Service. In order to be a deductible business expense for the employer, the amount of no more than 240 spaces, with no more than 30 spaces in any uninterrupted row. Each parking area shall be enclosed (except for access points) by a landscaped buffer not less than twelve feet wide and shall have additional landscaping equivalent in area to one parking space for each thirty spaces provided.

d. Loading

Adequate off-street loading facilities and space must be provided inside or rear areas, only to service all needs created by new construction whether through new structures or additions to old ones, and by change of use of existing structures. Facilities shall be so sized and arranged that no trucks need back onto or off of a public way or internal access road, or be parked on a public way or internal access road while loading, unloading, or waiting to do so.

4. DESIGN CONTROLS

Amend Section VI "Other Requirements" by adding Paragraph H, to read as follows:

"H. Industrial D

All development in an Industrial D District shall be subject to the following, unless a special permit for an exception to these requirements is granted by the Board of Appeals upon its determination that alternative provisions provide comparable protection for adjoining parcels and ways:

1. All utility service lines shall be placed underground. All transformers, meters, or similar utility apparatus shall be placed on or below the surface of the land and be screened from view.

2. All developed land area not covered by buildings, parking areas, driveways and other site improvements shall be landscaped and all parking areas shall be screened by landscaping (see Sections VI.C.2 and VI.A.4 (c)). All undeveloped portions of land may remain in the natural state providing such areas do not create a hazard or nuisance.

3. Walkways and parking areas shall be adequately lighted. No outdoor lighting shall be mounted higher than twenty-five feet above finished grade, and lighting sources shall be shielded to prevent excessive glare on adjoining property.

4. All rooftop mechanical equipment shall be grouped and screened.

5. Site Plan Review

a. Prior to application for building permits on projects involving 10 or more parking spaces, three prints of the plot plan shall be submitted to the Planning Board for advisory review. Prints of the plot plan shall be referred by the Planning Board to the Conservation Commission, and the Department of Public Works for their review and written advisory reports, Planning Board comments, if any, shall be returned to the applicant within 30 days of submission.

"b. Plans subject to this section shall show dimensions of the lot, size and location of existing and proposed structures, adjacent streets and ways, existing and proposed topography, any wetlands, storm drainage, underground utilities, drives, walks, loading and parking, retained v. created landscaping, lighting, and sign locations.

"c. Plans subject to this Section shall be designed so as to assure safety of internal circulation and egress, provide adequate access to each structure for fire and service equipment, and provide adequate utility service and drainage, consistent with the functional intent of Section IV, Design Standards, of the current Subdivision Regulations of the Andover Planning Board."

5. SIGNS

Amend Section VI "Other Requirements", Paragraph B. "Signs", subparagraph d. "Industrial Districts", by deleting sub-subparagraph (2) in its entirety, replacing it with the following:

(2) Signs attached flat against the wall of a building, advertising the name of the firm or goods or services available or produced on the premises; provided that the total area of all such signs does not exceed ten (10) percent of the area of the side of the building to which they are attached, or 100 square feet, whichever is less.

and

by deleting the last sentence in sub-subparagraph (3) and replacing it with the following:

"Such sign shall not be located closer than ten (10) feet to any property line or the line of any way and no part of any such sign shall be more than six (6) feet above ground level.

ARTICLE 3

To see if the Town will vote to change from Industrial A to Industrial D a portion of land in West Andover described as follows: Beginning at the intersection of the centerline of Interstate Route 93 and the centerline of the Merrimack River (Assessors' Map 164), thence running easterly by the centerline of the Merrimack River to the northerly extension of the easterly line of Lot 1 (Assessors' Map 125), thence southerly 3,000 feet more or less along the easterly line of Lot 1 and Lot 1A (Assessors' Map 125) and Lot 3 (Assessors' Map 126) to a point 200 feet northerly of the centerline of River Road, thence westerly on a line 200 feet northerly and parallel to the centerline of River Road 820 feet more or less to the easterly line of Lot 10 (Assessors' Map 143), thence southerly by the easterly line of Lot 10 (Assessors' Map 143) 200 feet to the centerline of River Road, thence westerly along the centerline of River Road and Old River Road to the centerline of Interstate Route 93 (Assessors' Map 165) thence northerly along the centerline of Interstate Route 93 to the point of beginning.

TOWN OF ANDOVER PLANNING BOARD

By DAVID M. ERICKSON, Chairman

February 5, 12, 1976

deferred compensation must be reasonable for the service rendered and in line with the industry's practice.

Olney added that "1976 is the year for executive plans based on management performance. Performance based bonuses are the most meaningful plans available at this time - - not only for mutual savings banks, which have traditionally lagged behind in awarding management incentives, but for many industrial companies as well.

"Banks are discovering that they can adequately reward outstanding management performance by using a performance bonus. In the past, many banks got into the habit of paying a man a bonus just for showing up in the morning. That really is what you give him a salary for!

Olney indicated that recent compensation trends have resulted from changes in the economy and the complex actions resulting from organizations' desire "to attract, retain and reward management personnel." The deferred compensation plans can result in deferring income tax liability until retirement when tax obligations are less due to reduction of income.

Alluding to over-all executive compensation, Olney predicted that this will go up in 1976 but there will also be "a significant change in the mix of salary, bonus and long-term income."

He said: "The salary part of the package will continue to shrink in relation to the others as results-oriented organizations base more of a person's total package on risk types of compensation - - that is, on bonuses and various types of long-term income that relate to the individual's actual performance on the job."

Increases for hourly workers will go up in 1976 to approximately 12%, with 10% for first-line superiors and 8% to 9% for most executives. In 1964, said Olney, only 45% of companies had bonus plans for executives; in 1974, the figure had risen to 65% and is increasing.

Olney Associates offers services in organization, analysis, manager development, compensation programs, supervisory training, attitude research and employee benefits planning, including E.E.O. compliance studies. Its more than 200 clients include banks, hospitals, educational institutions, municipalities, associations and industries.

At Louisiana Plantation

Mr. and Mrs. John Wragg, 10 Standish Circle, Andover, were recent guests at Rosedown Plantation and Gardens in St. Francisville, La.

Rosedown is a restored plantation empire in the Felicianas, the region made famous by the artist - naturalist John James Audubon who painted more than thirty of his birdlife studies there more than a century ago. Their visit coincided with the peak bloom of thousands of camellias.

Rosedown was originally built in 1835 by a wealthy young planter for his bride at a time when cotton plantations along the Mississippi were creating the country's greatest fortunes. As a well-to-do plantation owner, young Daniel Turnbull had the means and the taste to create a home of impeccable beauty. Martha Turnbull, who had an eye for both design and beauty, devoted nearly sixty years to developing Rosedown Plantation Gardens. By the mid-1800's these magnificent 17th century French landscape style gardens were the showplace of the Mississippi.

The Old State House, built in 1713 and seat of the Massachusetts colonial government before the Revolution, is now owned by the City of Boston.

Taylor Rental - Things To Rent For Every Event

Entertaining a crowd? Repairing your house? Going camping? The supplies you need for these and hundreds of other projects can be expensive - if you buy, yes, but there's another solution. The answer is RENTING - from Taylor Rental Center, 201 North Main Street in Andover (behind McDonald's).

The Andover store is one of more than 300 franchised Centers throughout the United States. Ted Von Rosenvinge of Andover and his two sons, owners of this unique business, offer a wide range of items for rent, indeed a veritable rental department store. They have all kinds of party and banquet items such as chairs, tables, dishes, silver, etc. (including elegant champagne fountains, chafing dishes, and serving caseroles). They have exercise equipment, baby furniture, paint and wallpaper tools, camping equipment, television sets, lawn and garden equipment. They even have a wide range of hand and power tools for carpentry work, cement work, plumbing, auto; plus heavy and light equipment for contractors and industry.

Renting offers the ideal solution to problems involving high cost for things that are used just once in awhile; for problems of storage (especially for apartment dwellers); for problems of repair and maintenance. Yes, rental from Taylor Rental Center is the happy answer to all these problems.

Renting is fast becoming a way of life for more and more people. Americans are becoming more interested in "doing" things than in "owning" things. Of course, renting fits right into this picture.

Stop in at Taylor Rental Center, 201 North Main Street, Andover and let them solve your special problems, too. For information, call Ted and his sons at 475-7550. They are always ready to serve you - with literally hundreds of rental items.

A Bit Unhappy

Jennifer McCray is not happy about her wedding dress in a scene from the Phillips Academy French play to be given Friday, Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. in George Washington Hall. Jennie, appearing in Bernard Chartreux's "Le Chateau dans les Champs", is sure she looks like "a large white cheese". Her attendants are Debbie Bedford and Marcile Bayard, both of Andover and in the background, Patrice LeMelle.

Seed Catalogues Can Ease Winter Doldrums

"Thousands of people in the state are finding out that several hundred dollars worth of fresh food can be raised in back yard gardens," Governor Michael S. Dukakis told an agriculture conference in Worcester last week.

And while it's too early to plant, now is the time to get ready by studying seed catalogues - an activity the Governor recommended highly as a good way to escape the winter doldrums.

"I am also urging all state departments which have agricultural land under their control to make this land available to the Department of Food and Agriculture for community gardening or commercial farming," Governor Dukakis said.

"Last year there were about 700 individual garden plots on state land used for community gardening."

Warren Shepard, director of the Department's community gardening program, recommends ordering from seed catalogues now, as supplies of many varieties are often limited.

As you study the seed catalogues, read the "cultural directions" carefully, he suggests.

They will tell how many days are required for a crop to mature. Winter squashes and melons, for example, must be planted very early in the springtime. Others such as radishes and lettuce mature more quickly and permit two crops during the growing season from the same plot of land.

Catalogues will also specify various amounts of each seed to purchase. The smallest size packets should be sufficient for the average home gardener, Shepard recommends.

As for which seeds to order, it makes good sense to begin with vegetables you and your family enjoy.

And beginners especially will be well advised to concentrate on some of the vegetables that grow best in our soil and climate - such as tomatoes, green beans, lettuce, carrots, beets, radishes, cucumbers, peas, yellow and zucchini squash, eggplant, peppers and sweet corn.

Some catalogues will also make note of which varieties of each vegetable should give good results under varying conditions.

For a list of seed companies from which free catalogues are available, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to Warren Shepard at the Mass. Department of Food and Agriculture, 100 Cambridge St., Boston, MA. 02202.

He will also answer inquiries about state land which is available for community gardening programs this spring, and may be reached by phone at (617) 727-3031.

Best Buys

Best buys at meat and poultry counters are chuck blade roasts, turkeys, chicken leg and breast quarters, fresh and smoked pork shoulder picnics, ground beef and beef liver. Best values in fish are frozen smelts, turbot and had-dock filets.

In fresh vegetables, best buys are cherry tomatoes, eggplant, cabbage, carrots, potatoes, onions, broccoli, celery, blue hubbard and butternut squash.

In fresh fruit, best buys are grapefruit, tangerines, McIntosh apples, Anjou pears, lemons, temple, juice and navel oranges.

Red Cross Has Variety Of Services

If you asked one person what the Red Cross does he would reply, have bloodmobiles; if you asked another he might say help servicemen and their families; or still another might say teach swimming and first aid. These are all correct answers, but then, the Andover Chapter with headquarters on Punchard Ave. gives many more services.

Did you ever think of calling when your planned program falls through? Chapter volunteers will provide a speaker, give a demonstration or present an interesting move such as "Teaching Johnny to Swim". Remember the Andover Red Cross is prepared to meet a variety of emergencies. If it were not for loyal supporters it would be impossible. More volunteers are urgently needed to care for our expanding programs.

Faris Work Premiered At Berklee

Berklee College of Music senior Christopher Faris was the featured writer whose works were performed at the Composers' Concert held recently at Berklee's Recital Hall. The program, which included original musical material penned and orchestrated by student musicians, is presented in partial fulfillment towards the requirements of the Bachelor's Degree in Composition. Christopher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Faris of 36 Dufton Road, Andover.

The concert was under the directorship of John A. Bavicchi, veteran member of Berklee's Composition Department and award-winning, contemporary composer-conductor, whose works have been performed throughout the U.S. and Europe.

Teachers

in the price of a basic commodity - teacher service in town - and we have to recognize that as a basic economic fact."

The Rev. David Hollenbeck, pastor of the Ballard Vale United Church, called for an end to all secret and closed negotiations ("it obviously has worked against us this time"), an end to all unfair tactics and "the feeling by anyone that this is a game (we all win or we all lose)", and for us to pay in dollars and cents so the teachers can cope with the increased cost of living.

He also called for a move away from a strike situation that would require years to heal, and for a new level of self-sacrifice on the part of the teachers. "Remember," he said, "these children are of infinite value."

Andover Federation of Teachers President John McCusker urged the school committee to accept the factfinder's report, reminding them that they had originally offered 6 percent, while the teachers had been seeking 12 percent.

"No one could say this leans too far toward the teachers," he said.

He also noted that he is now seeing triple - moonlighting on the part of teachers who used to work in the summers to supplement their teaching incomes. One grade school teacher now works at a liquor store at night as well, a math teacher sells cars, elementary teachers waitress, and a foreign language teacher clerks in a store.

Richard Pruneau of College Circle, however, disagreed, calling the teachers "King George's" who were "excising taxes for their excess pleasures."

"I'm saying to you patriots, stand up and fight," he said.

If the teachers feel they're overworked and underpaid, he went on, "go elsewhere."

When his daughter related the "gall" of the teachers that they would no longer teach last week, he said it was "time for us to state that the buck stops here." It's wrong when it starts involving innocent children, he said, adding that the teachers who sat around and did nothing last week "owe us a week's pay and an apology."

The school committee's offer of 6 and 7 percent are ample for anyone in this day and age, he said.

Mrs. Claudia Cavallero, 100 Dascomb Road, spoke as a parent "who was forced to take my children out of Andover schools." Speaking for herself and not for the executive board of the Sanborn PTA, of which she is a member, she went on. "I think the teachers have proven they have no worth and no value," she said. "Would we pay a fireman who watched a house burn and did nothing."

She said the teachers' bumper stickers say "Andover Teachers Care."

"About themselves and their paychecks," she added. "They care very little about education and the children that are in their custody."

All government employees got only five percent increases, she added. "The teachers say we're insulting them with our offer, but many people are out of work. We're giving them more than we have."

She asked the teachers to examine their consciences and "take a more realistic approach to these negotiations."

Mrs. Peggy McCleod of Shawsheen Road said it was her experience that the teachers have shown "concern and care," and hoped that they could come to an equitable salary without resulting to name calling.

Lee Smith, 21 Pine Street, said that her daughters have remained so far untouched by this whole thing, "but charged that the teachers were victims of "union tactics which may have been in serious error."

Mrs. Armando DeFelice, also of Pine Street, said she wasn't against teachers.

"I realize that you people need a raise. We all need a raise. I work three jobs."

"I don't know where you got the idea that $15,000 is the least anyone in Andover makes," she said. "Only one quarter of the population is affluent," she said. "The others are senior citizens or those of us trying to hold on to our homes."

"You have it made," she said.

DPW Agrees

The second phase of the agreement calls for a 7 percent increase and the hourly rate is varying with job classification. Total estimated cost to the town for this portion is $37,170.

Factfinders' recommendation received in December had suggested a 6 percent retroactive increase, with a two percent increase effective Jan. 1, 1976.

Both sides continued to discuss the matter, with the agreement being reached this week.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin praised the DPW employees for their work during the difficult negotiating period. He noted that labor-management negotiations are always difficult times for both parties, but that the DPW workers had performed well under the circumstances.

The Manager and DPW Director McQuade both commented on the effectiveness of

If you find yourself eye to eye with a cardinal, a mockingbird, or a tufted titmouse the weekend of Feb. 14 and 15, the Massachusetts Audubon Society would like to know about it.

A count will be made of birds of these species appearing at the feeders of those taking part in the weekend census.

Mockingbirds, cardinals and titmice are birds usually found only in southern climates. Cardinals and mockingbirds have not been year-round residents of New England for many years, and probably few titmice ever attempted to survive the severe winters of this region. But since 1957, the numbers of both the cardinal and the tufted titmouse have increased sharply, and the number of mockingbirds counted in last year's census was 75 percent above the 1974 count.

The population shift by these birds has been explained by the spread of suburbia in the Northeast with an accompanying proliferation of backyard feeders. Other reasons given are a warming trend in the region's climate and the planting of fruit-bearing trees by suburbanites.

How are these species of birds identified? Male cardinals are bright red and females are a warm orange-brown with a red bill.

the employees in continuing their duties despite not having a contract.

Particularly noted was the fact that the employees worked long hours during the Christmas period in clearing the major snow storm and icy conditions which followed.

To FRANCES E. GOSSELIN, of Andover, and ESSEX BROADWAY SAVINGS BANK, of Lawrence, both in the County of Essex, and to all other persons interested.

A petition has been presented to said Court by WILLIAM J. GOSSELIN of Hampton Beach in the State of New Hampshire representing that he holds as joint tenant certain land lying in Andover in said County of Essex and briefly described as follows: the land in said Andover, with the buildings thereon, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the northeasterly corner thereof at a point on the southerly line of Haverhill Street at land now or formerly of JAMES BLAMIRE et ux; thence running southerly by said BLAMIRE land 250 feet to a point; thence turning and running easterly by said land of BLAMIRE 60 feet to a point at a stone wall by land now or formerly of one WILSON; thence turning and running southerly by said WILSON's land of 288.66 feet to a point at a stone wall by land now or formerly of the Town of Andover; thence turning and running westerly 173.2 feet by said land of the Town of Andover to a point; thence turning and running northerly by other land of said Town of Andover 194.12 feet to a point; thence turning and running westerly 173.42 feet to a point at a stone wall by land now or formerly of DAVID MIDDLETON; thence turning and running northerly by said MIDDLETON land 229 feet to a point on the southwesterly corner of land now or late of one REILLY; thence turning and running easterly by land of said REILLY and by land now or late of one LESLIE 114 feet to a point on the southeasterly corner of said LESLIE land; thence turning and running northerly 140 feet, more or less, by said Leslie land to a point on the southerly line of said Haverhill Street; thence turning and running easterly by said southerly line of said Haverhill Street; thence turning and running easterly by said southerly line of said Haverhill Street 221.83 feet to the point of beginning.

Excepting therefrom such part of said premises as was taken for the relocation of said Haverhill Street, by taking dated August 21, 1925, recorded with the North District of Essex Registry of Deeds, Book 515, Page 255.

This conveyance is made subject to a right of way by the Town of Andover for sewerage purposes more particularly described in a deed recorded in the North District of Essex Registry of Deeds, Book 171, Page 97, setting forth that he desires that all of said land may be sold at private sale for not less than Forty-five Thousand dollars, and praying that partition be made of all the land aforesaid according to law, and to that end that a commissioner be appointed to make such partition and be ordered to make sale and conveyance of all, or any part of said land which the Court finds cannot be advantageously divided either at private sale or public auction, and be ordered to distribute the net proceeds thereof.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Newburyport before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the twenty-third day of February 1976, the return day of this citation.

Malden Cooperative Bank, Malden, Massachusetts, having petitioned the Commissioner of Banks for authority to establish a branch office to be located at or in the vicinity of the northeast corner of Chestnut and Main Streets, Andover, Massachusetts, also known as 60-64 Main Street, Andover, Massachusetts, a public hearing will be given to all parties interested therein in the Office of the Commissioner of Banks, 100 Cambridge Street, Boston, Massachusetts, on Thursday, February 26, 1976, at 11:30 A.M.

STEVEN J. WEISS
Deputy Commissioner of Banks
Feb. 5-12-19, 1976

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
SUPERIOR COURT

In Equity
No. 4369

Essex, ss.

To RONALD J. BUTLER and JUDITH B. BUTLER, both of Andover, in the County of Essex, in said Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and to all persons entitled to the benefit of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended:

Whereas, Salem Five Cents Savings Bank, of Salem, in said County of Essex, claiming to be the holder of a mortgage covering real property situated at Lot 1 Greenwood Road corner High Plain Road, in said Andover, and more fully described in the Complaint, given by said RONALD J. BUTLER and said JUDITH B. BUTLER, husband and wife, as tenants by the entirety, to said Salem Five Cents Savings Bank, dated May 31, 1974, and recorded in Essex North District Registry of Deeds, Book 1242, Page 419, has filed with said court a bill in equity for authority to foreclose said mortgage by entry and possession and exercise of a power of sale: If you are entitled to the benefits of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended, and you object to such foreclosure of said mortgage, you or your attorney should file a written appearance and answer in said Court at Salem, in said County of Essex, on or before the fifteenth day of March 1976, which day is the return day of this subpoena, or you may be forever barred from claiming such foreclosure is invalid under said Act.

Witness WALTER H. McLAUGHLIN, Esquire, Chief Justice of our Superior Court, the second day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventy-six.

HERBERT W. LEVESQUE,
CLERK

'Work Sessions' Set For Budget

Selectmen Monday night opened their examination of the budget Monday night with pledges to see the prospective $10 tax rate increase lowered.

The board members then approved meeting in "work session," with the general public excluded, to further review the municipal expenses for the coming fiscal year.

The secret session was called by Selectman Alan F. French, who said he did not feel the selectmen could adequately go over the budgets in open session, as is dictated by the new open meeting law.

His three colleagues joined in agreeing to meet in private "work session" on the budget beginning next week.

Selectman Edmund J. Sullivan said he could not remember the board having to attack a tax increase of this magnitude, and desired a substantial reduction in the figure.

Mrs. Janet Lake expressed concern about the proposed increase, but also warned that the town had been putting off major items for some time, and asked just how long some things can be put off.

Chairman Milton Greenberg asked the town manager to prepare a list of priorities to accompany the budget analysis, in order that some effort may be made in reducing the impending tax increase.

Chairman Charles F. Wesson of the Finance Committee also spoke of the magnitude of the task, noting that this year's budget is probably the biggest challenged faced by the FinCom in many years. Particularly disturbing was the use of $1.6 million in free cash to establish the current tax rate prospective.

Dozen Floats Possible

At least a dozen floats are expected to be in the Bicentennial Parade scheduled for Sunday, May 9 in Andover.

A meeting of the parade committee, held Tuesday night in Memorial Hall Library, featured two persons who work with the design and creation of floats and a group of about 20 interested in entering one in the parade.

Describing the work of designing and putting together parade floats were Ralph Lucy of Andover and Mrs. Patricia Giuffrida of Lawrence.

James J. St. Germain, chairman of floats and bands, and Sidney P. White, parade coordinator, reported that at least a dozen floats seem assured for the parade, with additional interest being shown which could bring the number to 15.

Another meeting is scheduled for Feb. 23 at Memorial Hall Library to discuss the matter further, with a deadline of March 2 set for the entries.

The natural ability of the environment to absorb man's damage has depended on slow population growth, on products of simple composition and on tools limited in size and scope. Since World War II none of these conditions has existed, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

Presidents' Reception Monday

On Monday, Feb. 16, from 3 to 5 o'clock, the traditional Presidents' Reception will be held at the Amos Blanchard House, 97 Main St., headquarters of the Andover Historical Society.

An exhibit pertaining to Revolutionary times has been assembled from the Society's collections, and refreshments will be served by the Hospitality Committee.

Selectmen's Race Still Commanding Attention

Additional candidates for both the selectmen and school committee races took out nomination papers this week, indicating building interest for the annual town election.

Robert P. Najjar, 8 Regis Road and Casimir J. Kolaski were the latest candidates for the school board race, where two spots are open for three year terms.

Stanley Nabydoski of Blanchard St., former municipal garbage collection contractor, was the latest candidate to indicate intent to campaign for the two openings on the board of selectmen.

A little over a week remains before the deadline for filing nomination papers which is Monday, Feb. 23 at 4:30 p.m. in the town clerk's office.

Interest in the selectmen's race is the heaviest in many years, with seven candidates seeking the two seats available. They are: Richard J. Bowen, Donald T. Coleman, George W. Connors, Jr., George F. Lannan, Susan T. Poore and Atty. Lawrence J. Sullivan.

For the school board post, Incumbent David Ahouse is joined by Atty. Paul Kenny, Kolaski and Najjar.

The only other race to date is in the regional vocational school board where John P. Childs and James Booth are competing for the post being vacated by Fred Tarbox.

With the filing of papers today, Richard J. Bowen, 12 Bannister Road, announces his candidacy for Selectman in the March Town election. There are two vacancies on the board whose members serve two year terms.

Bowen has resided in Andover since 1964 when he was appointed by the Selectmen to serve a term as Town Manager. Completing his tenure in 1975, he brings with him more than twenty years of experience in public administration, including some fifteen years in municipal administration in communities in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Hampshire and New York. In addition to his service in Andover, he most recently completed a two-year contract as financial manager for the City of Long Beach, California. A Long Island community of some 34,000 people, his previous history of management preceded paralleling that of the City of New York.

Bowen is a 1951 graduate of Colby College, Maine, holds a Master of Government Administration awarded in 1954 by the School of Finance and Commerce, University of Pennsylvania.

His wife Lucy is a Nurse on the Cardiac staff of the Bonny Hospital. Three of their children are graduates of Andover public schools while three are students at Andover School and Andover Junior High School.

In announcing his candidacy, Bowen said: "Andover is an important part of my life and the lives of my family for some twelve years. I have time to demonstrate my commitment to its life actively and as an appointee and employee, as an active participant in Town Meetings, as a citizen-volunteer and simply as a private citizen. I seek the elective office of Selectman."
